DRIVER OF TRUCK HAD SIX DRINKS OF "MOONSHINE"

Man With George Dean
When He Killed His Second Pedestrian Tells of Visits to Saloons.

INQUEST RESULTS IN HOMICIDE VERDICT

Dean's Bond Is Fixed at $20,000, Largest Amount Ever Required by the Coroner.

Developments today in the case of George Dean, licensed chauffeur, who killed his second pedestrian when his light delivery truck plunged into a group of persons at Taylor avenue and Broadway at 5 p. m. Wednesday, and then feloniously fled from the scene, were these:

A man who was on the truck with Dean at the time said that each had had six drinks of "moonshine" before the tragedy occurred.

A coroner's jury held Dean for homicide, and his bond was fixed at $20,000, the largest amount ever set by the coroner. His companion on the truck at the time of the accident was held as an accessory.

Secretary of State Becker announced he would ask the Legislature to enact a law providing that a chauffeur's license may be revoked if the holder is convicted of crime, and amend the present laws so that an affidavit or administration of an oath would be required when persons apply for a chauffeur's license.

Disclosure that the present motor-vehicle law does not afford sufficient restrictions for the issuance of chauffeur's licenses, and that a license is issued to anyone who makes application and pays a fee of $2, regardless of who he is.

That in 1918, when Dean was under parole from a workhouse sentence for manslaughter in connection with the killing of his first pedestrian, he was fined $10 for speeding, but that no action was taken toward revoking the parole.

Helper Witness at Inquest.

At the coroner's inquest today in the case of Floyd R. Cavanaugh, 18 years old, of 8025A North Broadway, who was instantly killed Wednesday evening when Dean's truck, going at high speed, ran into the group of persons, transferring from one street car to another, howling and over like tenpins, the most important witnesses were Herman Metz, 26, of 2312 Hebert street, who was on the truck with Dean, and the newsboy, Edward Kennedy, 18, of 2324A North Eleventh street, an eye witness, who furnished the information which resulted in Dean's arrest, after the latter had feloniously fled from the scene.

Metz was arrested last night, when police officers overheard a conversation between Dean and a man who visited him at the Angelica Street Police Station, learned for the first time that Dean had a companion on the truck at the time of the accident.

"When I saw those people crossing the street I thought Dean would turn to the right and pass behind them," said Metz, who was ordered to take a police station as a material witness for the coroner. "We were going south in the southbound car truck, and the people were in plain view when we were 50 feet away from the intersection of the two streets. I don't know why Dean failed to turn out of the tracks and avoid the accident."

"We were not going more than 20 miles an hour and I am quite sure that had he pulled out to the west side of Broadway there would have been no accident. But, instead, he kept going right along in the car trucks and ran into the people."

"Took Hands Off Wheel."

"After hitting the people he threw up his hands and exclaimed, 'Oh God.' I grabbed the steering wheel and tried to turn the car around to the left and almost hit the northbound Broadway car that had stopped to take on the passengers. I was with Dean while he was making deliveries in Baden during the afternoon and we each had had six drinks of moonshine before the accident. We had two drinks in a saloon at Helen and Madison streets before we started on the trip. Dean paid for them. In fact, he paid for all the drinks we had that afternoon. We got the other drinks in saloons on Riverview drive while making deliveries."

"After the accident we drove to the saloon at Helen and Madison streets because Dean wanted to find his helper, who was to have met him."

Quakeress' Gowns Hit of Lausanne Fashion Show

Trim Suits of Gray or Blue Applauded Most at Exhibit for Conference Crowds—Long Hair Approved.

By the Associated Press.
LAUSANNE, Dec. 15.—Short hair and short skirts won little favor in the fashion conference which Paul Poiret, the Paris artist, conducted at the Grand Theater for the fashionable crowds gathered in Lausanne for the Near Eastern conference.

Ten Parisian mannikins displayed more than 100 costumes before the exclusive audience, which registered its approval by loud applause, or was deadly silent when a mannikin moved across the stage in a costume which did not meet the fancy of the audience.

Long Hair Favored.

It soon became apparent that the girls counted more than the costumes. It was difficult for a short-haired girl to call forth much applause from the young diplomats who constituted a greater part of the male section of the audience.

There were mannikins with bobbed hair which was curled and bobbed hair which was plastered down straight. There were both blondes and brunettes with short hair, but they attracted little attention.

All eyes were on the girls with long hair, regardless of whether it was red, golden or black. They got the most applause. And the more modest and demure the mannikin was, the greater her popularity with the spectators.

Quakeress Hit of Show.

The snappy flapper was clearly in the discard, in the opinion of the international crowd gathered at Lausanne, and the willow girl in extremely long skirts and with plainly dressed hair was in favor.

The prime favorite among the mannikins was a gray-eyed little Quakeress, with brown hair parted in the middle, and simply dressed. Her suits and gowns were all gray or blue and whenever she appeared on the stage the applause was deafening, while the more flashy mannikins, walking with great affectation and dressed in conspicuous red and yellow gowns, were greeted with little enthusiasm.

CLARK NAMED AS MAN WHO INSISTED ON HERRIN KILLINGS

FARMER TELLS OF HEARING REMARKS

"We Ought to Take These Men Out and Kill Them," Union Man Is Reported to Have Said.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
MARION, Ill., Dec. 15.—Otis Clark, alleged leader of the union miners in the Herrin massacre, was identified today as clamoring for the killing of the strip mine prisoners on June 22 against the protests of another, who said that if they were killed it would be the worst thing that ever happened to the coal miners' union of Williamson County and of the entire country.

The identification was made by William R. Goodman, a farmer living three miles west of Goreville, who said he heard Clark at the time as a blacksmith and part of the time as a coal miner.

Goodman's Story.

On the day of the massacre, he testified, he went to Crenshaw Crossing, accompanied by L. A. Holbrook, his brother-in-law. When he arrived there he heard Clark and a group of men going to and fro. A little later he heard Clark in the direction of the Lester mine and a procession of 500 to 600 men came over the dump and toward Crenshaw Crossing with the prisoners in the center, he said.

"They stopped at the crossing. 'Did you see anybody that you knew?' asked State's Attorney Duty. 'Well, yes, I saw Mr. Clark,' 'What Mr. Clark?' 'Otis Clark.'"

The witness was told to point him out. He pointed to Clark.

"What was he doing?" "He was just in the crowd."

"What did he have?" "The best I remember he had a gun."

Known Him for "20 Years."

"How long have you known Clark?" "Twenty or 25 years—our farms are close together."

"Did you hear him say anything?" "Well, sir, I believe I did."

"What did he say?" "Do I have to answer that question?"

Judge Hartwell said: "If you know what he said, answer and answer quick."

The witness answered: "He said, 'We ought to take these men out and kill them.'"

"What was he doing?" "He was just around in the crowd."

After Goodman had testified that another man pleaded with Clark for the lives of the prisoners the answer was striking out on the ground that in characterizing it as pleading, he was stating a conclusion. He then quoted the other man as saying to Clark, "If we kill these men it will be the worst thing that ever happened to the coal miners' union and all over the country."

Witness Cross-Examined.

On cross-examination, Goodman said he thought the weapon Clark had in his hand was a pistol, but he was not sure.

Attorney Lewis, for the defense, asked him if he knew the difference between a pistol and a shotgun. Goodman said some pistols were so big it was pretty hard to tell them apart.

"Where was his hand?" asked Lewis. "I suppose it was on him, where it is now," said the witness.

Repeated efforts were made by the defense to prevent Goodman from testifying and to have his testimony excluded after he testified, on the ground that Goodman's name had not been indorsed on the indictment, although his name and what he would testify to were known to the State.

The objections were overruled on the ground that the rules had been complied with by the State in later giving the defense a copy of the testimony Goodman and other supplementary witnesses were expected to give.

Goodman denied that on a visit to Clark's parents two months ago he said he knew nothing against Clark. He said Goodman's memory of details was not good, but his story was not shaken by the cross-examination.

Student Tells of Shooting.

Fred Harrison, a student, 23 years old, son of George Harrison, farmer and banker who testified yesterday, told of the shooting of one man near the Harrison barn and of his being dragged away wounded to the Harrison woods, where the witness saw.

MRS. N. R. WILSON GIVES BUILDING TO WASHINGTON U.

WIDOW OF ENGINEER GRADUATED IN 1879

Money for the Construction of a Swimming Pool Was Donated to Institution in May, 1921.

Announcement of the gift of $250,000 for the erection of a building on Washington University campus for the Department of Geology, by Mrs. Newton R. Wilson of 4 Brentmoor Park, was made following a meeting of the University Corporation this afternoon.

Architects have started the plans and it is expected that construction will begin soon, with completion probably in time for the second semester of the next scholastic year, starting in January, 1924. Labor conditions will govern partly the time of construction.

Mrs. Wilson is the widow of Newton Richards Wilson, a mining engineer, who was graduated from the university in 1879. In May, 1921, she gave the money for the erection of a swimming pool adjacent to Francis Gymnasium, now in use. At her request, the cost was not state, but it was understood to be between $50,000 and $75,000. She has made gifts of minor importance to the university from time to time and has been interested in its work.

Mrs. Wilson's husband died in 1914. Her father, William Glasgow Jr., was a member of the first board of directors of the university.

To Be on Secondary Quadrangle.

The new geology building probably will be on the south side of the secondary quadrangle, close to Forsythe boulevard, Chancellor Hall said, in making the announcement.

This site would place it just west of the Isbell Velle January law school, which is being erected at a cost of $250,000, at the southwest corner of the main quadrangle and east of Tower dormitories and Graham Memorial Chapel.

The new building will conform to the Tudor-Gothic style of the existing structures, done in Southeast Missouri granite, which has a pinkish-brown color. It will be a memorial to her husband.

There are about 400 or more pupils in the department of geology. Prof. W. E. McCourt, dean of the engineering school, is also head of this department, with about six instructors under him. The department is holding its classes in other campus buildings.

Two Other Buildings Planned.

Two other department buildings are in prospect, as is known. They are the Duncker Memorial for the School of Commerce and Finance and the Bixby Building for the School of Fine Arts. Each is to cost about $250,000. The gifts have been made definitely by Charles H. Duncker and W. K. Bixby.

Buildings on the campus besides those mentioned, are largely the gifts of individuals. They are: University Hall, Busch Hall, Cupples I. Cupples II, Ridge Library, old School of Fine Arts, McMillan Hall, dormitory for women, and Liggett Hall, dormitory for men, in addition to several temporary structures and the stadium at Francis Field.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
A Special Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—America may be willing to forego the interest on the war debts of those countries in Europe which are unable to pay for several years to come. The principal will not be canceled or reduced.

This contribution to the stabilization of the world's economic crisis is under consideration, but it will be done only if European Governments pursue a policy which this Government believes will accomplish the desired readjustment in Europe.

The steps in the order in which they should be taken are these:

First, all the Powers should reach at once a definite agreement as to the amount of reparations Germany should pay annually. America's economic experts believe $500,000,000 is the limit of Germany's ability and that approximately $12,000,000,000 is the total sum that Germany can and should be made to pay.

Second, once the reparations sum is fixed, the world will be ready to take the Tudor-Gothic style of the existing structures, done in Southeast Missouri granite, which has a pinkish-brown color. It will be a memorial to her husband.

There are about 400 or more pupils in the department of geology. Prof. W. E. McCourt, dean of the engineering school, is also head of this department, with about six instructors under him. The department is holding its classes in other campus buildings.

HARVEY COMING TO U. S. FOR CONFERENCE

State Department Believed to Have Considered American Participation in Some Form in Proposed Economic Conference.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The reparations problem was discussed for more than two hours today by President Harding and his Cabinet.

It was indicated afterward that there had been a final decision as to the policy of this Government toward the present difficulties. There were evidences, however, that the administration was preparing to avail itself of all possible information on the subject with a view to determining whether it could be of service in any practicable way in bringing about an adjustment.

One of the questions touched upon in the Cabinet discussion is said to have been the proposal for an international loan to permit Germany to stabilize her finances, reported in official advice to the American Government as on the verge of a collapse. It was declared, however, that no concrete proposal for such a loan had come to the attention of the Washington Government.

Wiedfeldt Sees Hughes.

The President and his official family had before them in addition to information which has come to the Government through official American sources, a picture of Germany's financial troubles as given by the German Ambassador, Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt, in a long conference earlier in the day with Secretary Hughes.

Although State Department officials confirmed today the London announcement that Ambassador Harvey had been called home "for consultation," they declined to make any explanation as to the specific questions Secretary Hughes desired to discuss with him.

In the absence of an official explanation, the impression has gained currency that Harvey has been called to Washington in connection with the situation as to German reparations now threatening a rupture between Great Britain and France.

Situation Regarded as Acute.

It has been stated in administration circles here that the Washington Government regards the reparations difficulty as the "most acute" of European problems, and is anxious to afford any aid toward settlement that it could properly extend. In view of these official utterances, the expectation is that the Ambassador's visit will have a direct effect on that situation.

It appears to be certain that the State Department has seriously considered the possibility of American participation in some form in the proposed economic and financial conference at Brussels, which was projected by the allied statesmen, but for which it has not been possible to make definite plans because of the split over German reparations. As the conference in its original conception would not have dealt with political matters in Europe, American participation might conceivably have been possible, although not on any basis that would involve cancellation of allied indebtedness to the United States.

Ambassador Harvey would be the

BOOZE VATS TO HOUSE REV. SHUPP'S FLIVVER

Or Whatever Car He Gets—
A. S. L. Leader Combines Business With Pleasure.

Seven large vats made of fir lumber, that used to hold moonshine mash in a plant at 11 South Third street, which was raided on Dec. 7 by Federal agents and the Rev. W. C. Shupp, superintendent of the Missouri Anti-Saloon League, are going to be converted into a garage to hold the Rev. Mr. Shupp's flivver, if he should get one, or whatever car he may acquire.

It is his pleasure to assist in liquor raids from time to time and in this instance he was enabled to combine business with pleasure by acquiring the lumber. He said today that he could not utilize all the lumber for a garage, and that really it had not paid him to bother with it. He had the raid. Then he and several men whom he employed spent more than a day dismantling the vats, by permission of Chief Prohibition Enforcement Agent Nations.

The Rev. Shupp and Nations agreed that it would have cost more for the Government to have stored the vats for possible sale than could be realized on them, so that the Government lost nothing, but saved the time of prohibition agents who might have had the dismantling job.

A fraction of a ton of coke taken in the raid was given to a small drug manufacturing concern not far from the location of the moonshine plant. Dr. Shupp said that one of his sons, Ray Shupp, was working for this concern. He said that the fact of his son's employment, so far as he knew, had nothing to do with this.

POSSE SLAYS LEADER OF 'MOONSHINE' GANG

Dry Agent Shot as He Ap-

By the Associated Press.
LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 15.—Prohibition Agent Sam Collins received word today that Bob Ballard, leader of the Manatee County "moonshine" gang, sought for the slaying of two Federal officers last week, was killed in an early morning fight with 20 prohibition agents today.

Guy Cole, prohibition agent, was slain in the clash, the report said. Charles Ballard, also sought, was wounded.

Bob Ballard was killed when prohibition officers surrounded a cabin in which he and his brother had barricaded themselves, near the scene of last week's encounters.

Agent Cole of Bowling Green, Ky., approached the front door before any of his companions had fired a shot at the cabin. He was killed without warning from within and his body dragged into the building.

The remainder of the posse fell back and centered rifle fire on the cabin. Their shots were returned. Before the house again was surrounded, Charles Ballard dashed from the door and disappeared into the woods.

Possemen said he was wounded. He escaped in the hills.

Bodies of Cole and Bob Ballard were found in the cabin. Ballard had been killed by a rifle bullet that had penetrated the walls.

Reinforcements have been sent to Manatee County to pursue Charles Ballard, who, it is thought, may have taken refuge with companions in the hills.

Prohibition Agent Robert C. Duff was shot by the "moonshiners" last Saturday and Dave Treadway, a member of the posse seeking Duff's slayers, was shot from ambush and fatally wounded Sunday afternoon.

Secretary of War Weeks this week refused a request of the Kentucky prohibition "officers" for Federal troops to hunt the "moonshiners."

NEAR BREWERY WHISKY STILL RAIDED

Nine Bales of Hops, 80,000 Gallons of Mash and Beermaking Equipment in 4-Story Building.

RAID APPARENTLY WAS ANTICIPATED
Fires Withdrawn, but Still Was Warm—Nations Says
He Expects to Make Arrests.

A large copper still, about 80,000 gallons of fermenting mash, 20 gallons of whisky and other distillery and beer bottling equipment were found in a four-story building at 248 South Main street yesterday afternoon by Chief Prohibition Enforcement Agent Nations and his deputies and two city detectives. The still will be confiscated and the mash destroyed.

No one was in the building at the time, but Nations says he has information concerning the identity of the moonshiners and expects to make arrests.

The raid recalls that three large stills and a large quantity of mash
were found by the enforcement agents Dec. 7 in a building in the same neighborhood, at 11 South Third street.

Nations yesterday first went to the building and found the doors locked and the windows darkened with tar paper. He then obtained a search warrant, and after placing men at all exits, including men on the roof
to prevent the escape of anyone through the skylight, rushed the place and battered down the doors.

Formerly a Distillery.
The building had formerly been occupied by the Rebeck Distilling Co., and over the office door inside is an old sign reading, "Distillers
and rectifiers of spirits."

The raiders found nine bales of hops on the first floor and on the second and third floors, three wooden cases filled with mash. The still was on the second floor and was hot and full of mash, although the fires had been withdrawn, indicating that the operators had suspected a raid and fled. In other parts of the building were cans, bottles and bottle capping machines.
From the office to the different floors extended an electric signal system.

Still in Operation for Months.
This is the same police beat on which the other stills, at 11 South Third street, were found. The report of the patrolmen on the raid yesterday says that they were at Commercial and Elm streets when they heard the crash of the enforcement agents breaking in. They had not previously detected any odor
from the building and did not know
a still was being operated there.

Nations said the Sergeant on the beat expressed amazement when informed of the raid and its yield. He said the still was an old one, and probably been in operation for months.

Nations said that the presence of the hops, bottles and capping machines indicated that beer was to have been made there, but he found no evidence that there had been any brewing.

DEFENSE WITNESSES TESTIFY

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Dec. 15.—
The State rested and the defense be-

two of his daughters, Flora and Helen. Dinello is on trial for the murder of Flora, 11, whose body, as well as that of her sister, was found in a sack in the Missouri

In his opening statement, Jerome
Kochler, attorney for the defense,
expressed doubt that the bodies found in the river were those of his daughters.
"If they were the Dinello children," he declared, "and if Dinello did kill the girls, he was insane at the time and did not know what he was doing."

Kochler stated that Dinello had confessed to the murders because of weakened physical and mental condition due to "third degree" tactics of the police.

Defense witnesses testified that Dinello was known to them as a good parent and that he was carrying wood to his home on the day when the murders were alleged to have occurred.

RECEIVER FOR PUBLISHERS OF METROPOLITAN MAGAZINE

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Federal Judge Mack has appointed Franklin
Coe receiver in equity for the Metropolitan Publication Corporation, publishing the Metropolitan Magazine, with a bond of $5000, on petition of the National Rotary Grange franchise, which presented a claim for damages.

It was alleged that the Metropolitan company was unable to meet immediate pressing obligations, that fruits had been begun against it and that a receiver was needed to preserve the assets and to continue publication of the magazine pending organization.

She Has Picked Eleven Lemons in the Garden of Love, but Is Willing to Try Again

Miss Cora Walker of East
St. Louis Has Received a Letter From One of Former Husbands and Admits
Her Faith in Men Is Not All Gone.

"I—I Don't Know," She Says When Asked if She Would Wed Again, Eyeing Letter From "Your True Friend."

"I picked a lemon in the Garden of Love," Old jazz refrain.

Miss Cora Walker, who has borne
many other names, and who in her 43 years has obtained eight divorces on grounds of cruelty and one on grounds of unfaithfulness, and once was divorced because she would not live with a husband after he went to jail, still has confidence in men.

Her 11 marriages to nine men include three attempts to find married happiness with Albert Lilley,
and have all been miserable failures,
but she still believes it is possible for her to find a man with whom she may be happy.

Her faith in men and the innate goodness of things was not so sanguine last Monday when she divorced
Lilley in the East St. Louis City Court, with blackened eyes and a painful limp as mute testimony. She admitted then that her experience had just about convinced her that marriage was a thing to be fled from rather than welcomed.

But her outlook brightened a little Wednesday, when she received a letter, signed, "Your true friend, Sherman Porter." Porter was her eighth husband, whom she divorced
in the summer of 1919. He resides in St. Louis and wrote that he had just read in the papers that her marimonial ship had gone on the rocks again. He was sorry she had been beaten up, and hoped she was "not hurt bad." His two rooming-house and two coal wagons were doing well. He would talk to him he wanted to meet her and talk things over.

"Your true friend." So things weren't so bad after all. "I suppose I've just been unlucky in marriage,"
she said. "I've been unlucky in marriage," she said. "I've been unlucky in marriage," she said. "I've been unlucky in marriage," she said. "I've been unlucky in marriage," she said.

"There Are Good Men."
She proudly referred to the matrimonial success of her two daughters
as proof that "there are good men."
Bessie, 21, got along with her husband, and Alice, 23, eloped before she was 16, and her marriage turned out well.

Miss Walker (her maiden name
was restored when she divorced Lilley) said she had never asked any of her husbands to take care of her two girls, but clothed and fed them from her own earnings. She sent them to grammar school, although she herself never went to school.
When they got through school they Bessie and two children, is staying with her mother, since the latter's separation from Lilley.

While Miss Walker was telling the reporter experiences resulting from her 11 marriages he observed that the three rooms were very clean and the furniture was good and in a condition that bespoke the industrious housewife. The only thing in sight that was not spotless was a white poodle, whose latest raid on the kitchen had sent him to the kitchen cat scuttling. "Miss Walker apologized. "You better take him now, Alice."

She herself was neatly if not prosperously dressed. She is of medium height and slender. Her features are rather finely cut. Her gray eyes are not hard, and her proud, high-bridged nose is offset by sensitive lips.

"Don't Be a Clinging Vine."
Her message to those about to embark on the uncertain seas which are strewn with her matrimonial wreckage, she said, was not the classic "to a nuptial" as it would have been a few days ago. Now she would say: "Let the other fellow come half way. Don't do all the courting, and don't let him believe you are a clinging vine—that you can't get along without him. And when you're married let him do his part. Humor him, but don't humor him too much or he'll stop considering you altogether."

"That's been just the trouble with you," Alice broke in. "You've spoiled every man you ever had. Do you suppose I don't remember how you used to do three or four washings
a day, supporting them and sending us to school?"

Miss Walker was only 14 when she married Joseph Truxler at Albany, Ill. "I believe now that Albany ought to be a little older," she commented. "But I didn't think so then. And they shouldn't marry children. Still, an early marriage and a hasty one doesn't seem to have hurt Alice any. More luck than anything."

Her First Marriage.
Truxler was a "hired hand," a little older than Miss Walker, and

MISS CORA WALKER

she had known him about a year
for that. We had got along fine, off and on, for four years. He was a

How quickly Resinol

is clearing up that eczema

That's the Point! The moment
Resinol touches an itching, burning skin, the suffering usually stops.
A few days' persistent treatment rarely fails to clear away the inflammation and soreness and finally restores the skin to its natural healthy condition.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Shaving Stick contain the same soothing properties and are used by discriminating men who like their complexion, clearing lather and wholesome Resinol fragrance.

HUGE FUEL OIL RESERVE TO BE BUILT UP FOR PACIFIC FLEET

Government's Contract With Pan-American Company Extended—
New Fields to Be Developed.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—A huge fuel oil supply for the Pacific fleet will be built up, an extensive tract of country developed and facilities for handling oil increased, and the Government will get immediate benefit of royalties from Naval Reserve No.
1 in California, as a result of the extension yesterday of a contract between the Government and the Pan-American Petroleum and Transporting Co. It was said, after announcement of the change was made by Secretary Denby.

The company, given "preferential rights to further leases" in the reserve under the original contract, is required by the agreement to construct and fill great oil tanks at Pearl Harbor, involving expenditure
by the company of "at least between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000," according to E. L. Doherty, head of its controlling interests.

The "supplementary clause" Doherty said, amounts to an "advance of possible royalties to the Government totaling between $12,000,000
and $15,000,000. He declared that for "the oil industry of the Pacific Coast the new arrangement would mean the systematic development of a considerable scope of territory and the development of a whole additional system of facilities for handling such oil."

NOONAN QUITS JUDGESHIP FIGHT

Defeated Candidate for Corrections Court Withdraws Contest.
Edward A. Noonan, candidate on the Democratic ticket for Judge of the Court of Criminal Corrections in the election Nov. 7, who was defeated by Judge Calvin Miller, Republican, today announced the withdrawal of an election contest he instituted recently.

Noonan said that at the time he filed the contest he was under the impression the nine defeated Democratic candidates for Circuit Judge would participate and that he entered the action for that reason. No other judicial candidates filed a contest.

$44,100 Suits Against Terminal.

Damage suits aggregating $44,100
were filed against the Terminal Railroad Association today by seven persons who were reported injured
Nov. 26, last, when an automobile driven by Fred Wiedle of 3806 Labadie avenue, was struck by three box cars being switched over Terminal tracks at the Angelica street crossing. Amounts sought in the seven suits range from $3000 to $6100.

MODERN METHODS DIM
SOUTH SEAS' GLAMOREven Tiny Island Where Women
Do the Work, Showing Signs of Civilization.

By the Associated Press.

HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 15.—The glamor, romance and adventure of the South Seas are disappearing before the spread of modern methods of industry, education and living, according to J. F. G. Stokes, ethnologist attached to the Bishop Museum here, who has returned from a two-year tour of the Austral Islands, in connection with the museum's endeavor to establish the origin of the Polynesian race.

Even Rapa—the pin-dot island which became famous as a place where the men were fed by women and lolled around listlessly on a stretch of coral strand under shade-giving palm trees—is beginning to show the marks of civilization, despite the fact that the ratio of inhabitants continues to approximate four women to one man, Stokes said.

There are only 23 taxpayers—men between the ages of 21 and 60—on the island. The rest of the 236 inhabitants are women, boys, girls and old men.

"All the work except the fishing is done by the women, who are comely, sturdy, exceedingly tall, muscular and hospitable," Stokes said. "The women who first drew attention to Rapa, through stories that the women fed the men apparently visited the island during a festival, when the women fed the men 'in fun.' The women, however, do perform all agricultural work."

"Despite the heavy ratio of women to men, no man has more than one official wife. The women are none too willing to marry the men of Rapa, as they become little more than slaves, once they are married. They have no hold on control over their husbands and if they attempt to enjoy the same privileges as their husbands they are liable to receive a severe beating.

"The inhabitants of Rapa are extremely hospitable to white men."

Phonographs

Our Phonograph Department has decided to discontinue certain numbers and we have priced these models at a very low figure to close them out immediately.

Irrespective of their former price, these high-grade machines are greatly reduced; in some instances they are priced at almost cost.

A console model finished in brown mahogany is marked down from the special price of $85 to..... $74

An upright model Phonograph, one of the best on the market, is reduced from $125 to..... $90

An elegantly carved solid mahogany console model Phonograph is reduced from $400 to..... $235

Six Records will be given free with each Phonograph. If desirable, Phonographs may be bought on the deferred payment plan.

Tea Carts
$15.75

Where could you find better value for so little money? Tea Carts, well finished in brown mahogany, in Queen Anne and other designs, are priced for immediate disposal at $15.75.

These Tea Wagons have rubber-tired wheels, removable glass trays and are sturdily constructed. Many of them were formerly priced at $27.50 and $30. On sale Friday and Saturday, special $15.75

YOUTH CONVICTED OF MURDER READS POEM WHEN ON GALLOWS

Slayer of Reformatory Guard, Hanged in Pontiac (Ill.), Played Cards With Warders.

PONTIAC, Ill., Dec. 13.—Myron Corbridge, 21 years old, was hanged at 9:07 a. m. today in a dingy auctioneer's tent in the jail yard. He was executed for the murder of "Sol" Jones, a guard over him at the Illinois State Reformatory here, six months ago.

This youth, who had spent half the years of his life in penal institutions and whose twenty-second birthday would have occurred tomorrow, displayed a granite stoicism at the approach of death. He stepped out without faltering as he accompanied Father J. H. Cannon, Sheriff L. M. Shugart and the deputies to the gallows. On the scaffold, Corbridge read a poem and died denying his guilt. Corbridge's last wish, that he see his brother before he died, was realized. Fred Corbridge of Jacksonville arrived early today, and at 6:45 the condemned youth was awakened to see him and to prepare for the hanging.

He had slept soundly for almost four hours, having retired at 3 a. m. Early in the evening he had played cards with the guards and at midnight ate a hearty supper of hamburger, rolls, coffee, ice cream and ginger ale.

It was the first hanging in Livingston County in 40 years.

PRINCE STUDIES MOVIES IN U. S.

Czecho-Slovakian Ruler, a Film Magnate, Learning American Methods.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 13.—Prince Suscha of Thurston and Taxis, tiny principalities of Czecho-Slovakia, is a motion picture magnate and has come to Los Angeles to learn American film methods. He plans to remain here a month.

The Prince formerly was chamberlain to Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary.

12,000 Mile Walk for Graduates.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

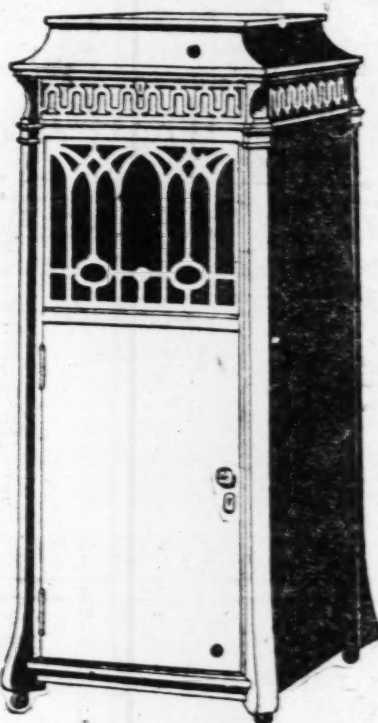

URBANA, Ill., Dec. 13.—Students at the University of Illinois walk approximately 3000 miles in a school year attending classes, according to the reading of a pedometer carried for two weeks by an inquisitive student. In the four school years that a student is at Illinois this would mean approximately 12,000 miles, or half way around the world.

Clothes of Character

On whom can you depend for clothes satisfaction?

The making of fine custom clothing is an art in which human skill is paramount.

The materials necessary to make clothing are available to all, yet only a few have the ability to satisfy the discriminating.

Those who possess this ability gradually win recognition and their hard-won reputation becomes their proudest possession.

Only when you depend on a tailor who has a reputation to uphold are you sure of getting complete satisfaction.

LA FOLLETTE OPENS ATTACK AGAINST SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

Criticizes President and Lasker in Sharp Language—Says Its Introduction Violates People's Trust.

"WORSE BILL NEVER CAME BEFORE SENATE"

"It Simply Means Turning Over People's Property to Favored Interests for Few Cents on Dollar."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Opening the attack of the Progressive bloc against the administration shipping bill, Senator La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin, declared in the Senate today that the measure "is contrary to the expressed will of the American people and that the action of the President and its sponsors in attempting to force its passage at this time is 'an open challenge to the people and a violation of the trust reposed by the people in their delegated representatives.'"

The Wisconsin Senator criticized the President and Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board in sharp language and challenged the arguments made by the executive in his message to Congress urging enactment of the legislation.

"I do not believe that a worse bill than this ever came before the Senate of the United States for its consideration," he asserted. "It simply means turning over the people's property to favored interests for a few cents on the dollar and a tax of millions of dollars levied annually in order to pay a subsidy to those who take the ships practically as a gift. It means millions of dollars of tax refunds to the shipping interests. It does not even promise much less guarantee, cheaper rates for ocean commerce, it proposes to destroy our army and navy transportation and turn this great agency of potential defense over to private ownership. It does not guarantee the building of a single new ship or the maintenance of those we have. It is wholly bad, and the attempt to force it upon an unwilling country cannot be too strongly condemned."

"Improper Proposal to Labor."
The Senator added that the farmers of the country were unanimously opposed to it.

"I content myself," he continued, "with the statement that Chairman Lasker sought a conference with Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and made a highly improper proposal to a group of labor officials that they disregard the will and the interests of their membership and support the pending bill."

This conference took place on April 8 and 9, in the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor, in the city of Washington. Chairman Lasker, then and there, I am informed, offered to withdraw certain provisions in the pending bill dealing with labor if he could thereby induce the labor organization to abate its opposition to the bill.

"Let it be said to the everlasting credit of the representatives of the workmen of this country that they spurned this barefaced proposal. Chairman Lasker found he could not buy American labor."

La Follette reviewed the results of the recent election, declaring that "wherever a candidate for public office declared against this ship subsidy bill in a district normally of his own political party he was elected."

"Madness of Administration."
The plan of the President in his message to Congress, La Follette declared, was a "recent special session of Congress to disregard the 'too hasty impressions of a constituency' in the interest of the larger national good particularly drew the fire of the Senator, who declared the appeal represented 'the madness of the present administration,' and would not be tolerated in any other representative government of the world."

He challenged the President's statement that enactment of the bill would relieve the Treasury of losses now being sustained by reason of Shipping Board operation of Government tonnage and asserted the plan embodied in the bill would "plunder and rob" the American people.

Chairman Lasker was attacked by the Senator as a man appointed to public office "not to operate ships but to sell ship subsidy to the American people."

He accused the Shipping Board chairman of refusing to give information to Congress as to the cause of losses in Government operation of ships and charged that he had "tried to make Government operation a failure."

The Wisconsin Senator, in concluding his address, took up the bill section by section, criticizing its provisions and pointing out what he contended were dangers in it.

CARR STREET DISTRICT POLICE
BRING CHEER TO POOR FAMILY

Note to "Santa Claus" Found on Capt. Stinger's Desk Brings Food and Toys

A letter addressed to "Santa Claus," found by Capt. Stinger of the Carr Street Police District on his desk early today, led to an investigation which resulted in a needy family being supplied with food, clothing, fuel and playthings for the children.

The letter, written by Grace Bruno, 13, of 1327 Blair avenue, said the family of 10 was in dire straits because of inability of the father, Angelo Bruno, a teamster, to find work. It asked "Dear Santa Claus" to do his best for the eight children and especially to bring Peter, 5, a red wagon.

A visit to the Blair avenue address convinced Capt. Stinger that the family was deserving. He found the family without fuel, the children were poorly clad and there was but little food. On the night of Dec. 12, he visited the Carr Street Police District and nearby groceries netted two baskets of provisions and the wagon for Peter was purchased by Capt. Stinger. A fund of $12, remaining from a subscription last year by police of the Carr Street District for the needy, was turned over to the family and fuel and clothing was bought.

MEN FIGHT OVER MATCHES

Restaurant Manager's Shoulder Wounded Customer's Arm Broken.

Matches, which Albert Nabe, of 3401 South Jefferson avenue, took from the cashier's counter of a restaurant at 2604 Cherokee street at 2 a. m. today, would not light when Nabe struck them. He complained of the quality of the matches, and Raymond DeBusk, night manager, defended the matches and the restaurant's stock generally.

Nabe prolonged the argument with an ice pick, and DeBusk wielded a club. When policemen arrived, Nabe's left arm was broken, and DeBusk had a wound in the shoulder. The two were taken to the City Hospital, and William Gross of 4501 Oregon avenue, who appeared to be a party to the disturbance, was arrested.

BANKRUPTCY SUIT ENTERED

A suit asking for an adjudication in bankruptcy was filed today by the Ferguson-McKinney Dry Goods Co. against the Houchin Sales Co., 1209 Washington avenue, of which James A. Houchin is president. Houchin was the head of the Star Clothing Manufacturing Co., the assets of which were liquidated by a receiver in the last year and a half.

The dry goods company's petition alleges that the Houchin Sales Co. owes it more than $500, is insolvent and has committed an act of bankruptcy in making a preferential payment of $50 to R. G. Dunn & Co. The Houchin Sales Co. was incorporated for $25,000.

ILLINOIS-MICHIGAN CUT DOOMED TO DISUSE

Stretch Between Lockport and Brandon Roads to Be Abandoned.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—The old Illinois and Michigan canal, down whose towpaths the mule-drivers once directed the commerce of the state, is doomed.

Decision of Gov. Small to proceed with the construction of the deep waterway down the Illinois river will take the last of the barges off the little canal which has served the state since 1848.

Part of the old canal between Lockport and Brandon Roads, southwest of Joliet, is to be abandoned, but the 60-mile stretch from Brandon Roads to La Salle will be maintained to handle pleasure boats and other small craft.

Originally the "I. & M." ran from Chicago to La Salle, but construction of the Chicago Drainage Canal to Lockport eliminated a 40-mile sector. The "I. & M." carried 74,000,000 tons of freight between 1860 and 1915. Between 1848 and 1860, the canal paid for itself from the tolls collected.

In recent years the traffic has been light, because it could no longer compete with modern railroad service. When first built, the canal took 16 feet wide and 100 feet long, with a capacity of 140 tons of freight per lock, were able to handle a load approximately equal to the average railroad train of that day.

During its successful operation the canal competition forced railroad rates down from 25 to 40 per cent, according to state engineers. Between 1860 and 1915 the canal saved the people of the state $185,000,000 in freight rates, they claim.

FOUR WOODMEN'S SANATORIUMS

By the Associated Press. OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 15.—The Woodmen of the World, a national fraternal organization, numbering 500,000 members, has begun the erection of a tuberculosis sanatorium at San Antonio, Tex. This will be the first of four such institutions for the treatment of members to be built in different parts of the country, according to W. A. Fraser, sovereign commander. The sanatorium of San Antonio will be in honor of members who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War. A monument on the grounds will be inscribed with the names of all Woodmen who died for their country. The sanatorium will be a reconstruction and enlargement of an old Spanish mission. Patients will live in the open air the year round on porches.

Junior C. of C. Elects Officers. The Junior Chamber of Commerce elected officers last night at the Francis Home, Newstead and Maryland avenues, choosing Henry A. Hoefler, an attorney, as president; Harry J. Krusz, Dwight L. Holmes and Thomas J. Cole, vice presidents, and Herbert Rhein, treasurer. William E. Rolfe, an employee of the Board of Public Service, explained the 21 municipal bond-issue proposals to be voted on Feb. 9.

GRAIN RESTRICTION ON GOLTRA BARGES LIFTED

War Department to Permit Him to Carry Any Shipments, to Get Line in Operation.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
No. 20 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—All restrictions against the carrying of grain by Edward J. Goltra's fleet of barges on the lower Mississippi River have been removed by the War Department.

Previously Goltra was required to get permission of the department before he could negotiate contracts for grain shipments, the object of the regulation being to prevent interference with the business of the established Government line.

Col. T. Q. Ashburn, head of that line, wrote to Goltra yesterday, giving him blanket authority to handle grain on the lower river at 80 per cent of the rail rate—the same rate that is charged by the Government service. Ashburn sent a copy of the letter to the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, which, with other St. Louis commercial organizations, has been urging that steps be taken to get the Goltra boats into operation. All of them are now tied up.

Goltra, according to information given the War Department, has explained his failure to enter the grain-carrying business by saying that the department wouldn't let him do so.

"He may now go ahead and make contracts without consulting anybody," said Col. Ashburn today. "We want the Mississippi Valley shippers to know that we are willing for Mr. Goltra to operate and that we will help him in every way possible if he does operate."

HOGAN AND "KINK" CONNELL HELD ON WEAPON CHARGES

Reputed Leader of "Jelly Roll" Gang and Others Arrested in Auto With Pistols.

An automobile, stopped at Fifteenth street and Franklin avenue by two policemen at 1:15 a. m. today, was found to contain Edward J. (Jelly Roll) Hogan, reputed gang leader, and four other men. The four men arrested with Hogan are John (Kink) Connell, 24, no address; Peter Planagan, 23, 2907 Barrett street; Patrick Scanlan, 18, 2223 Montgomery street; and Fred Betz, who said he lived in Jefferson City.

The policemen say Betz took a fully loaded revolver from beneath his coat and dropped it into the front seat of the car when he saw them. The other loaded revolvers, two handkerchiefs with ends knotted together, and a brown cap, were found in the tonneau.

At the Carr Street Station Hogan told police all the revolvers found belonged to him and he had permission to carry them because of his being a State Beverage Inspector. He could not account for the handkerchiefs. He said they were showing Betz, a friend of his, who was driving the car, the city.

Because the two patrolmen making the arrest assert they saw Betz drop a revolver to the seat of the car, warrants on charges of carrying concealed weapons will be applied for today. All five men are being held at the Carr Street Station for investigation.

LEWIS SAYS U. S. IS THE ONLY NATION WITH NO FOREIGN POLICY

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.
Copyright, 1922.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, speaking today at the American Club in Paris, said:

"The United States is the only nation in the world that has no foreign policy. If the United States had put forth at Versailles and Lausanne a policy of international dealings asserting the rights of Americans in the international privileges of the world with the announcement that these would be backed by force, the United States would have directed the treaty of Versailles, controlled the outcome at Lausanne and would have influenced the political form of every nation to the profit of American commerce and the peace of the world."

"The uncertainty day by day of the position of the United States in regard to foreign interests, the knowledge that an election at home on any local subject may overthrow any foreign engagements and destroy every relation existing with the European and Asiatic world, is closing the gates of the world to American trade and destroying American influence on the new civilization of the newly established nations."

CLEVELAND FIRM TRYING TO ACQUIRE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO

Road Would Increase Van Swearingen Mileage to 4280 and Afford Outlet to the Atlantic.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The Van Swearingen Co. of Cleveland, financiers, are negotiating to add the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad to their transportation holdings. It was learned in the financial district yesterday. They now have an option, which expires next year on the holdings of Henry E. Huntington, chairman of the board.

G. P. Van Swearingen, chairman of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad, is in New York to confer with officials of the Chesapeake & Ohio. None of these executives would discuss the situation. Huntington was said to be in Pasadena, Cal.

The Van Swearingen Co. now operates 1725 miles of railway through control of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad, Toledo, St. Louis & Western and Lake Erie & Western.

Its acquisition of the Chesapeake & Ohio would give the company control of about 4280 miles of road.

The Chesapeake & Ohio is one of the largest railway systems in the East. Its control would give the company an outlet to the sea at Fort Monroe, Va., and also access to one of the richest coal fields in the East.

The road owns and operates more than 2500 miles of railway. It has outstanding $12,558,500 6 1/2 per cent cumulative preferred stock and $62,292,600 common stock of $100 value.

Pembroke

An Exquisite Christmas Gift to the Family

At $98.00

$5.00 places one of these beautiful instruments in your home.

A Phonograph of fine quality at a moderate price.
The exquisite tone of the Pembroke is a source of constant delight to even the most critical. Clear and brilliant of tone, it reproduces the most difficult music faithfully. It plays all records.

$1.00 weekly terms
may be arranged.
We advise an early selection.

The Pembroke's graceful console cabinet, of satin-finish mahogany, beautifully expresses its reason for being. Well equipped with a long-playing motor. It includes in its well-arranged cabinets eight record albums.

THEORY KENNEDY DIRECTED ROBBERY AT VANNDALE, ARK.

"Quail Hunter," Slain After Nov. 2 Holdup, Apparently
Also in Earlier Missouri Pacific Affair.

ALLEGED ACCOMPLICE
IS UNDER ARREST

Letter Believed to Be From Suspect Found Among Kennedy's Effects at Cape Girardeau Hotel.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MEMPHIS, Dec. 15.—Jack (Quail Hunter) Kennedy, who was shot to death by Postoffice inspectors after he had robbed the Frisco Railroad mail car near Wittenberg, Mo., the night of Nov. 2 last, now appears to have been the director of the robbery of a Missouri Pacific train at Vandale, Ark., the night of July 22, 1921.

Kennedy's part in the Missouri Pacific robbery, in which only about $200 was obtained, has been made public following the arrest of Felix C. Cutcher, 33 years old, by Postoffice inspectors at his home, near Wynne, Ark. Cutcher is charged with taking part in the Missouri Pacific robbery.

Letter to Kennedy Found.
After the killing of Kennedy, a letter signed "B. B." was found among Kennedy's effects at a hotel in Cape Girardeau, where Kennedy had stayed during his preparations not very well concealed for the Frisco robbery. The inspectors believe that the initials stand for "Big Boy," a nickname applied to Cutcher, who weighs 256 pounds. The letter was addressed to "W. M. Hunter," the name which the "Quail Hunter" used during his stay at Cape Girardeau. The letter, mailed a few days before the Frisco robbery, seems to have pertained to the plans for that robbery. It reads:

Mr. W. M. Hunter, dear sir and friend:
Your letters at hand and glad indeed to hear from you, but can't quite understand you need me, W. M. It is quite impossible for me to come this week, but if you want me to come next week send me carfare and I will leave here Monday, Nov. 6, in time to reach you the seventh.
I will come alone or I will bring the other party also if you feel that you need us both, but I am sure I can't get him to come unless I am with him. Now answer by return mail and if the time I gave is satisfactory, send for me and I will come or send the sawed-off, whichever you want me to do. If I come, I will bring the necessary equipment. As ever, your friend,
B. B.

Evidently Didn't Wait.
"Mr. W. M. Hunter" evidently decided that he could not wait for the convenience of "B. B." At the time of the robbery near Wittenberg, Kennedy appears to have had only one companion, Harvey Logan, and Logan also was killed by the inspectors who waylaid the two robbers as they carried a stolen pouch of registered mail from the mail car toward their automobile. Postoffice inspectors Floyd Elliott and Roy North, who were in the party that killed Kennedy and Logan, had been working on the Vandale robbery since it occurred. They learned that a man, believed by them to have been Cutcher, overheard a conversation at Wynne between the express messenger and the local agent, in which the "through safe" was mentioned. This is believed to have occasioned the robbers' belief that large sums of money were carried on the train, although officers said afterward such was not the case.

After the robbery at Vandale, when Sheriff Martin was forming a posse to go after the robbers, Cutcher is reported to have offered him the loan of his "big rifle." One of the robbers had a high-power rifle. Prisoner Under Indictment.
Cutcher has been taken to Jonesboro, Ark., for preliminary hearing. The Federal grand jury there indicted him before his arrest, on charges of robbery of a mail train, putting the life of a mail clerk in jeopardy and delay to the mails.
"Quail Hunter" Kennedy made a specialty of training novices in robbery, such as Logan, his companion in the Wittenberg case. He also worked with old timers, and one of the latter is being sought, following Cutcher's arrest.

CARTRIDGES FOUND IN COAL

Mystery of Stove Explosions in Paris Believed Solved.
(Copyright, 1922.)

PARIS, Dec. 15.—The mystery surrounding explosions of slow-combustion stoves in Paris was cleared when dockers unloading a cargo of hard coal from England discovered several hundred cartridges. They were the type used in mines to split up coal.

Experts explain that, owing to dampness, nine-tenths of such cartridges fail to explode and that miners are expected to return them to be made fit for use again. Instead they are thrown away. A Government inquiry has been instituted.

SIMPLE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need); apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

A VERY SPECIAL CHRISTMAS OFFER

Full-Size Cabinet Phonograph Including Records

$74.50

EXPERT POTTERY THROWER PREFERS TO SHINE SHOES

Italian Offered $60 a Week to Work at His Art, But He Chooses $30 Job in Barber Shop.

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—An Association of Arts and Industries in an effort to build up industrial art is raising a fund of $100,000 to establish a school of industrial arts in Chicago.

In many lines of industrial art the United States is dependent upon Europe, according to leaders in art and industry. The fine arts of weaving, pottery, metal and glass work, as well as all the arts and crafts, should be taught as thoroughly in this country as in Europe and with greater financial reward, they believe.

At a meeting at the Art Institute of Chicago, William Wilkins, instructor in industrial arts at Lewis Institute, presented Frank Camiano, who gave an exhibition of pottery throwing. But Camiano, who came from Italy 14 years ago, is a boot-black. Camiano is married and has a family which he supports by shining shoes. Although offered a pottery throwing position in Kentucky at $50 a week, according to Wilkins, Camiano refused to give up his job of shining shoes which he considered assured him of an income of $30 a week.

AMERICAN WOMAN WRITER AGAIN ARRESTED IN RUSSIA

Third Such Experience for Mrs. Marguerite E. Harrison—Release Obtained by Senator France in 1921.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Dec. 13.—A Reuter's dispatch from Chita, reporting the arrest of Mrs. Marguerite E. Harrison of Baltimore, an American newspaper writer, says that she is being taken to Moscow under escort. The charges against Mrs. Harrison, who was released from a Moscow prison more than a year ago, were not specified. Her arrest at Chita, the dispatch says, was on orders from the soviet Government.

Reports that Mrs. Harrison had been arrested at Chita reached this country early this month. Her detention is the third such experience she has had in Russia in the last three years. After being held in Moscow from November, 1920, to January, 1921, she again was imprisoned near Moscow in May, 1921, and was held until Senator France, then in Russia, obtained her release, July 30, 1921.

A Correction:

In our advertisement in the Post-Dispatch, November 3d, we advertised Girls' Polo Cloth Coats at $13.75. This was an error. The word "Polo" as applied to cloth is copyrighted by the Worthington Mills and should not be used in connection with other fabrics. If any of our customers who purchased Coats in that sale under the impression that the fabric was "Polo Cloth" desire to do so, they may return the Coats.

GOVERNORS DEBATE PROHIBITION AND KLAN

Matters Brought Before Conference by Governor Parker of Louisiana.

By the Associated Press.
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.
Va., Dec. 15. — State executives attending the fourteenth annual conference of Governors here, turned their conference discussions
today to an inspection of coal mines,
after breakfasting at the hotel.
Gov. Beckley, after engaging at midnight in the first flurry of debates, which has marked the session.

Prohibition and the Ku Klux Klan were the two questions which brought a clash of views when the meeting was thrown open to debate shortly before midnight after an address by Gov. Olcott of Oregon, in which he condemned the Klan as a national menace.

Gov. Morrison of North Carolina declared he opposed introduction into the conference of either of the Klan or prohibition question, which previously had been brought up by Gov. Parker of Louisiana in an address in which he declared prohibition was almost a force and that the Klan should be curbed by Federal legislation. As two of the "touchstone" questions before the country, Gov. Morrison said he opposed their consideration at a conference which he believed should be devoted to an exchange of ideas on the administrative duties of Governors.

Against Any Resolutions.
Particularly did he object, Morrison said, to Gov. Parker's proposal that the conference adopt resolutions on those questions or on any resolutions looking toward uniform regulation of a police character. At this point Gov. Sprull, Pennsylvania, interrupted to say that the North Carolina Governor need have no fear of the conference departing from its policy against adopting resolutions.

Gov. Morrison further declared he disagreed with Governors Parker
and Olcott on their proposed methods for fighting the Klan, which, he said, could not be legislated out of existence but could be met effectively only by argument. As to Gov. Parker's assertion that prohibition was not being enforced and his opinion that the sale of light
wine and beer should be permitted under Government regulation of its manufacture and distribution, Morrison said he was "astonished" at what he described as the Louisiana Governor's willingness to surrender
to the lawlessness among anti-prohibitionists on the one hand and his desire to fight what he conceived to be lawlessness in the Klan on the other. Gov. Parker rejoined that he did not conceive his attitude on prohibition to be a yielding to lawlessness.

Does Possible Danger in Klan.
While he did not mean to defend the Klan and deplored its possible danger to the country in arousing
the spirit of religious intolerance and racial feeling, Gov. Morrison said, he could relate many acts of violence attributed to the secret
organization.

Taking up Morrison's assertion that the way to meet the Klan was to face it in argument, Gov. Kilgore of Alabama asked how it was possible to argue with a masked man.
Morrison replied that highwaymen
were masked, but that the states
knew how to argue with them.

San Antonio Wants Dry Conference.
By the Associated Press.
AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 15.—President Harding has been invited to hold the Governors' conference on prohibition enforcement in January at San Antonio, by Gov. Neff and May-back. Accord with the purpose of the conference also was expressed by the Texas executive.

HEARING SUMMONSStated at Office That

DECIDED ON COURSERefused Yesterday to Further Part in Proceedings
Following Up on Committee.By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Representative Keller, Republican of Minnesota, failed to appear before the House Judiciary Committee in response to a formal summons. At his office afterward it was stated that he had decided definitely to respond to the subpoena served on him late yesterday afternoon. Keller had previously announced his withdrawal from further participation in the committee's presentation of his impeachment charges against Attorney General Daugherty.

Whether the committee will undertake to compel his appearance or to hale him before the House for contempt will be decided before tomorrow. The crowded committee room in the House sergeant-at-arms called Keller's name three times but was no response. Refusing to take further action, the committee adjourned. Keller's refusal to assist in the proceedings came late in the day as a dramatic climax to the third day of the hearings. He had prepared a statement to read before the committee, but he never got the opportunity. Several members of the committee had been waiting to know if it was his business to "lecture" the committee. Refusing to be put under the microscope, Keller replied to the inquiry he "might lecture" the members that he added demands that he be heard. Chairman Volstead immediately broke into the general to order Keller to "sit down" and inform him that he could not read the statement.

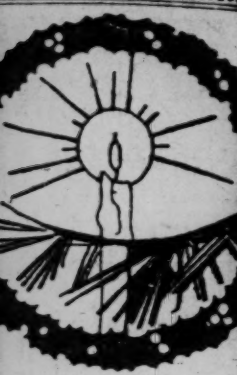

Stalls From Committee. Advancing to the chairman at the "head" of the hoarse, shaped rail behind which the fifteen sat, Keller threw a statement in front of him and dramatically announced he could not read it to the committee. Then he stalked the committee room which he had thrown into an uproar with in the huge office building on the run from several directions out what was causing excitement.

Meanwhile Chairman Volstead had ordered the clerk to read a subpoena for Keller so that he could be placed under oath and examined at once. But he was decided to defer this morning. The subpoena was served on Keller in his law office where he was preparing to see newspaper correspondents. The statement which the committee would not hear together with a letter from Samuel D. Hays of New York advising him of the proceedings and a statement of the committee's refusal to accept Keller's refusal to appear, were placed on the table. Keller refused absolutely to have connection with this unbusinesslike, prejudging, "whitewash" performance.

Advised by Undersecretary of the Interior, Keller realized the extraordinary situation which the committee was actually in. He was asked to attend the hearing and to do so and advise his friends who consulted him. He refused to do so and advised his friends to immediately withdraw from the proceedings and await an opportunity for a full and fair trial before an impartial jury. That would have a public trial and would not be so composed of "lame ducks."

I have sufficient confidence in the public intelligence and the play," the letter concluded. Keller said that the people will take action in refusing to go before this committee. Renewing in his letter to the committee his complaint about the postponement of the hearing set for Sept. 18 to Dec. 8, Keller charged that the postponement was given to such a time "that the committee knew in advance that it would not be able to hold a hearing."

Charges Against Committee. Keller then set forth 10 charges against the committee. These included: That important decision by the committee.

COMMITTEE NOT DECIDED ON COURSE

Refused Yesterday to Take Further Part in Proceedings Following Uphear in Committee.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Representative Keller, Republican of Minnesota, failed to appear today before the House Judiciary Committee
in response to a formal summons.
At his office afterward it was stated that he had decided definitely not to respond to the subpoena served on him late yesterday after he had drastically announced his withdrawal from further participation before this committee in the charges against Attorney-General Daugherty.

Whether the committee will undertake to compel his appearance or to hale him before the bar of the House for contempt will not be decided before tomorrow. Facing the crowded committee room, the House sergeant-at-arms called Keller's name three times but there was no response.

Refuses to Take Further Part.
Keller's refusal to assist further in the proceedings came late yesterday as a dramatic climax to the third day of the hearings. He had prepared a statement to read to the committee, but he never got the opportunity. Several members wanted to know if it was his purpose to
"testure" the committee.

Refusing to be put under oath,
Keller replied to the inquiries that he "might lecture" the members. To that he added demands that he be heard. Chairman Volstead repeatedly broke into the general hubbub to order Keller to "sit down" and inform him that he could not "bullying" the committee.

Stalls From Committee Room.
Advancing to the chairman's place
at the "bed" of the horseshoe-shaped rail behind which the committee sat, Keller threw his prepared statement in front of Volstead and dramatically announced that he could not read it to the committee. He was through with the proceedings. Then he stalked from the committee room which had been drawn into an uproar with attacks on the huge office building, arriving in the huge office building arriving from the run from several directions to find out what was causing all the excitement.

Meanwhile Chairman Volstead
had ordered the clerk to issue a subpoena for Keller so that he might be placed under oath and questioned. There was a demand that he be examined at once, but finally it was decided to defer that until this morning. The summons later was served on Keller in his office
where he was preparing to give newspaper correspondents copies of a statement which the committee would not hear together with copies of a letter from Samuel Untermyer of New York advising him to take advantage he had. Keller characterized the proceedings as "a desperate attempt to whitewash Harry
M. Daugherty."

In his statement addressed to the committee, Keller said he had made his decision to give nothing further to "these whitewashing proceedings" after consultation with his advisers. Untermyer, writing late of Wednesday, said he would refuse absolutely to have any connection with this manifestly biased, prejudging, "whitewashing" performance.

Advised by Untermyer.
Untermyer wrote that when he learned the extraordinary way in which the committee was acting and was asked to attend the hearings,
he refused to do so and advised your friends who consulted me to urge him to immediately withdraw from proceedings and await an opportunity for a full and fair investigation before a public tribunal
which would have a public responsibility and would not be largely composed of "lame ducks."

Keller has sufficient confidence in his own intelligence and sense of "play" the letter concluded. "I have no action in refusing to go further into this committee."
Answering in his letter to the committee, Keller said he had no objection to the postponement of the hearings taken to such a time as the committee knew in advance that my adviser, Mr. Samuel Untermyer, would not be able to be in attendance.

Charges Against Committee.
Keller then set forth 14 specific charges against the committee.
These included: That every

SWIFTER CONVICTIONS URGED BY FULTON JUDGE AS CURB FOR DISREGARD FOR LAWS

Court Delays and Lack of Finality in Punishing Criminals Cited by Judge David H. Harris
as Causes for Attitude on Part of Public.

Growing disrespect for the laws and increasing crime are due in a large measure to court delays and lack of finality in punishing criminals, Circuit Judge David H. Harris of Fulton, Mo., declared in a discussion yesterday before the State Judicial Conference on the part Judges might legitimately play in promoting speedy and effective administration of the criminal laws.

"The great American civil disease,
lack of respect for the law," arises
in the first instance from a want of finality of the law," he said. "To increase the respect of the public for our laws, there must be an administration of our laws that commands respect."

"It is prompt and sure conviction that puts the fear of God and respect of the law and courts into the hearts of potential criminals."

The conference, composed of Supreme, Appellate and Circuit Judges of Missouri, met in the St. Louis Court of Appeals in the Pierce Building to discuss judicial problems and to recommend reforms or legislation deemed necessary.

"Crime increases or decreases in the proportion that punishment is swift and certain," Judge Harris asserted. "Delays of months and months, from term to term of court,
are not only unnecessary but fatal
to justice."

"The law says 'the accused shall enjoy a speedy trial,' but a speedy trial is the last thing the modern professional criminal wants to enjoy."

The unprecedented disregard for law and contempt for its administration, especially manifested at this time in relation to the Federal and State prohibition laws, is no mere exhibition of a new spirit of rebellion suddenly created, he said, but is the inevitable result of a condition of mind and heart on the part of a large portion of the population that has been developed over the last 50 years.

Two Classes of Persons.
He described two classes of persons in reference to law enforcement—the practical and the sentimental.

The sentimental, whom he said
held forth largely in the United States, France and Italy, was defined as one believing criminal law has as its chief object the reform of the criminal.

The practical class, said to rule in England, Canada and Germany, was given as one maintaining that the principal purpose of criminal law is to protect society, with only secondary consideration of the consequences to the offender.

Judge Harris said justice is administered swiftly in England, the trial, appeal and decision of higher courts frequently being completed in under 90 days from the date the crime was committed. In this country, he added, a murder case
frequently does not come to trial within 90 days of the offense, and may not be tried for even four or five years, may elapse before the case is brought to trial. He said that the committee had been made in secret and without opportunity for himself or his counsel to be heard in advance.

That these secret decisions had operated to restrict him in presenting his evidence in the order in which it could be most "expeditiously and effectively presented and that also they had taken from him
the right to call his witnesses and to first notifying the committee as to what they could testify.

That the committee had failed to comply with his request for the production of documents from the Justice and other Federal departments,
so that he might testify, that some of the agencies have looked over his shoulder and spied upon his private papers, others have surrounded him and spied upon their conversations and interfered with their efforts to assist me."

HIGHER PAY FOR JURORS PROPOSED BY CIRCUIT JUDGE

Judicial Conference Is Told
by Franklin Miller That Low Pay Causes Unwillingness to Serve.

SAYS CRIMINAL CODE IS OUT OF DATE

He Asserts Too Many Safeguards Are Thrown Around Defendants; They Are Sword for the Guilty.

Legislation to increase the pay of persons doing jury service in the St. Louis Circuit Court from the present rate of $1.50 a day was advocated yesterday by Circuit Judge Franklin Miller at a meeting of the State Judicial Conference, composed of Supreme, Appellate and Circuit
Judges of Missouri, meeting in the Pierce Building.

The conference, provided for by statute, was to discuss any legislation changes considered necessary,
and was attended by 25 Judges.

Jurors serving in other courts in the State, outside St. Louis, get $2
a day, Judge Miller said.

A great many men called in jury venues try to evade service, and the Judge charged political influence frequently was brought to bear on Judges in an effort to get prospective jurors excused. "We are confronted with applications for excuses
from jurors and their friends on the street, in court, in the corridors in our offices, and at home, as well as getting them by letter and telephone," the Judge stated.

Men denied excuses often maintain a hostile attitude, he said, and the hostility is reflected in their decisions. "I am appalled by the number of acquittals in certain cases," he said, "and some of this apparently is due to hostility of jurors over being required to serve."

Reduction of the number of challenges permitted in selecting jurors was urged by Judge Miller. He pointed out the great loss of time in qualifying 47 men, and then challenging 35 of them, as compared to the English system of closing the examination as soon as 12 men are approved.

Grimm Against Excusals.
Circuit Judge Grimm of St. Louis said the better type of men, who should serve on juries, are the most difficult to get. "No number of excusals," he said, "will ever curry favor with the lawyers. We should have the courage to do our duty, whether the lawyers like it or not."

Discussion by several Judges developed the conclusion that jury standards would be improved if all Circuit Judges would adopt a firmer policy in refusing to excuse men
from service.

Inclination of juries of leniency
was pointed out by Circuit Judge Almon Ing of Poplar Bluff. He said if Judges imposed light sentences on pleas of guilty, the juries would drop to the same sort of sentence
where convictions were obtained.

Circuit Judge Ewing Cockrell of Warrensburg suggested more thorough enforcement of parole regulations. "In giving a parole the interest of the community must come first," he said. "The offender
should be given sufficient punishment
to keep him from repeating the offense."

Officers Re-elected.
The officers were re-elected. Inclined to the conclusion that the Trimbles Kansas City, chairman;
Judge Grimm, vice chairman; Circuit Judge Ralph Hughes, Liberty;
secretary; Appellate Judge Becker,
St. Louis, treasurer.

The conference yesterday morning indorsed a constitution convention proposal, creating a Judicial Council, to be composed of 13
Judges, with power to prescribe the rules of practice and procedure in actions in all courts of record in the State, subject to approval by the Legislature.

Opposition was expressed to two proposed sections, one abolishing the existing County Courts and substituting a Board of Commissioners, and the other creating a County Court with jurisdiction over probate matters, juvenile cases in certain cities, divorce cases and civil cases involving an amount not in excess
of $2000.

AMERICAN RELIEF IS FEEDING 1,500,000 RUSSIAN CHILDREN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The American Relief Association now is feeding a million and a half Russian children, Secretary Hoover, head of the organization, said today.
Hoover expressed the opinion,
however, that there would be a large increase in the number for which the association will have to provide food before next June.
He believes the number may reach 3,000,000.

FIGHT BEHIND SCENES GOING ON IN GERMANY

Group Headed by Stinnes in Contest With Cuno and Other Industrialists for Supremacy.

Special Wireless to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.
(Copyright, 1922.)
BERLIN, Dec. 15.—Behind the scenes a fight for industrial and political supremacy in Germany is going on. Chancellor Cuno's speech in the Reichstag, in which he attacked
the assertions made in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, Hugo Stinnes' newspaper, that the Government was willing to compromise with the French to avoid the occupation of the Ruhr, merely hinted at the bitter contest between the Cuno Ministry and a number of industrialists, on the one side, and the industrial group headed by Stinnes on the other.

The head of the League of German Industries assured Cuno Wednesday that the majority of the members of the organization were supporting him against Stinnes and the "other reactionary industrialists opposed to the present Republican Government."

The Stinnes industrialists, although they have been carrying on negotiations with the French industrialists, maintain no definite agreement with France and Germany is desirable until the principal principles questions and the occupation of the Ruhr and the Rhineland have been settled definitely.

DENIES FARM BLOC WITHDRAWS SUPPORT FOR FORD ON SHOALS

Representative Rankin of Mississippi Denounces Report as Propaganda to Defeat Offer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Denouncing reports he said had been circulated that the "farm bloc had deserted Henry Ford in the Muscle Shoals fight," Representative Rankin, Democrat, of Mississippi, declared in the House yesterday that no man was able to deliver the vote of the farm bloc.

"Every man knows there is no concrete organization of the 'farm bloc,'" said Rankin. "No man can argue himself as its leader. Every man from an agricultural section is a member of the bloc, but no man can deliver its vote. No number of the farm bloc has deserted Muscle Shoals, and I challenge anyone to say he has deserted. This is all a part of the propaganda that has been going on to defeat the Ford offer.
Leave it to the farm bloc to vote on this question and you will see how they stand."

BAVARIA WANTS A PRESIDENT

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.
BERLIN, Dec. 15.—The process of disintegration of what used to be the Great German Empire seems to be proceeding apace. The Bavarians want a president of their own.
Prussia, the largest state in the German federation, has sent a note to Berlin announcing that the Bavarians want a president of their own, representatives abroad and an independent administration capable of deciding without reference to Berlin all questions affecting their interest.

This announcement is taken to mean that while Bavaria may be considered part of Germany she may refuse to support other German states in such vital matters as, for instance, the payment of war reparations.

RADIO TERMED AID TO PEACE

Communication Promotes Better Understanding, Gen. Harbord Says.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—The importance of radio in the response of business in maintaining peaceful relations between the countries of the world were discussed at the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association here last night.

"Communication" can contribute more than any other agency to the need for better understanding between peoples, declared Major-General James G. Harbord, soon to be retired from the army, after 34 years of service, to assume the presidency of the Radio Corporation of America.

EDUCATORS PAY TRIBUTES TO MENDEL AND PASTEUR AT CENTENARY CELEBRATION

Scholarly Gathering at St. Louis University Auditorium Hears Lives and Works of Famous European Scientists Described.

A scholarly gathering, in which many wore cap and gown, celebrated last night, in the St. Louis University auditorium, the centenary of two European scientists, Gregor Johann Mendel, Austrian botanist and biologist, formulator of the laws
of heredity, and Louis Pasteur, French, who established the germ
theory of disease.

The things which Mendel and Pasteur had in common, and the occasions of the joint observance,
were the year of their birth, 1822,
and the fact that both were members of the Catholic church—Mendel
as abbot of a monastery, and Pasteur as a layman who likened his faith to that of a Breton peasant.

The difference between the two careers appeared strikingly in the biographical addresses, delivered by men noted in American scholarship.
Dr. Herbert Spencer Jennings of Johns Hopkins University, spoke of Mendel, and Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, former dean of the medical department of the University of Michigan,
spoke of Pasteur.

The tragedy of Mendel's life, as described by Dr. Jennings, was that his work had no adequate recognition in his lifetime, and that his name did not become known to the world of science until 14 years after his death, and 34 years after his greatest scientific achievements.

Pasteur, on the other hand, as
Dr. Vaughan pointed out, had immediate recognition from his contemporaries, and the French Government early granted him an annuity in consideration of his services to industry and agriculture and in the preservation of human life.

A professional of the university faculty introduced the exercises, and the senior class of the university,
in scholastic garb, acted as ushers.
Archbishop Glennon and a group of the Catholic clergy occupied one of the boxes, and ministers and educators were numerous in the audience, which filled the hall.

Visiting Educators Speak.
President William F. Robinson, S.
J., of the university, introduced Prof.
M. T. Tisdell of the University of Missouri and Chancellor Frederic A.
Hall of Washington University, who brought the greetings of those institutions.

Dr. Jennings of Johns Hopkins, speaking on Mendel, said that, until 1900, the scientific world regarded the problem of heredity as unsolved.
"Nowhere else was there such a terrific struggle for its way, as a great salient into the domain of biological science, rendering insecure
many of the most important seeming possessions of the science of living things." And yet, at the time when leading scientists were declaring the problem unsolved and unlikely of solution, Mendel "had opened the way, had entered and taken possession, and had reported to his fellow men."

The speaker said that Mendel was guided by a straightforward, tenacious, and unflinching logic. "He was the only man with a scientific understanding of heredity and of variation; and he died the only one."

Mendel's Methods.
He planted peas, stocks, sweet peas, morning glories, four o'clocks, maize, hollyhocks, flax, snap-
dragons, nasturtiums, hawkweeds, and on other garden plants. He understood what was really a scientific program of research, he made carefully controlled experiments for many years, crossing them, self-fertilizing them, studying minute
all the progenies, keeping accurate records of his pedigree records in a far-more precise, thorough and penetrating way than anyone else had ever done. He found different types of peas, for eight years he continued, with other associates, with external stimulus, this vast program of researches.

"He wrote an account of the work on the garden peas, and later
after six years' work, and later
he wrote up also the studies on the hawkweeds; he published these in the proceedings of the local society of natural history. The paper on peas was the most important of the series. It fell dead from the press. No one noticed it. Mendel sent a copy of it to the man who,
among the professionals, he felt
most likely to appreciate it—to Carl Nagel, professor of botany at Munich, and later author of a famous work on heredity and evolution. He sent also to Nagel long letters, giving clear, systematic accounts of his work—that on the peas and on many other plants. Ten such letters to Nagel have come down to us, extending over a period of seven years.

"Mendel's Interest."
"What did the great professor and man of science think of these?"
Dr. Jennings then discussed the work of Mendel and declared that "the genetic sci-

CONSTITUTION BODY DELEGATE ADMITS USING RAIL PASS

Exchange of Personalities, in Which Collecting of Mileage Is Insinuated, Relieves Dull Session.

ATTORNEY FOR ROAD IS THE EXPLANATION

Paul Conwell of Kansas City Asks Ralph Wammack of Bloomfield About His Free Transportation.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 15.—An exchange of personalities, during which a charge was made, interfering, that at least one member of the Constitutional Convention had traveled to Jefferson City on a railroad pass and subsequently collected mileage, yesterday brought to an exciting finish a rather dull two-day session of the convention devoted to discussion of the rights of church corporations to hold property.

Ralph Wammack of Bloomfield began by discussing a proposed change in the rules which, he said, would reduce the expenses of the convention and conserve time. His amendment to the rules, presented some days ago, had not acted upon, provides for closure in the form of a three-minute limit on debate. He succeeded in inducing the convention to vote to make consideration of his proposed amendment to the rules a special order of business for the morning of April 15, when the convention reassembles after a recess beginning today.

Expenses Now $1500 a Day.
The expenses of the convention
now have reached a enormous total of $1500 a day, Wammack said.
"I say enormous advisedly, although I realize that Mr. Conwell here may not agree with me," he referred to Paul S. Conwell of Kansas City,
an attorney at law, who said that statement had been made.

"I have long been told that a man cannot be judged by what proceeds from his mouth, but rather by his actions," Wammack responded. "Mr.
Conwell is one of the delegates
who desires no change in the present Constitution and has on several occasions participated in filibusters
to delay proceedings."

"I do not desire to become discredited, in the eyes of the public
we must show results," Wammack said.

Conwell asked him: "What do you think of a man who will ride to the convention on a railroad pass and then collect his mileage?"

Explains Railroad Connection.
Wammack hesitated for several seconds with upraised arm and then said: "I understand the slur 'the gentleman has 'traveled' on a railroad pass' is a slur. I want to say right now that for 16 years I have represented the Cotton Belt Railroad in six counties included in my state senatorial district. I did not take the pass in the first place, but having it, I am ashamed of it and everybody in my district knows that I am a paid attorney for the Cotton Belt."

"I wonder if you (turning to Conwell) can show me a delegate who pays for his travel?"
"I am employed chiefly in looking after my own business," Con-
well said.

"I accept his explanation," Wammack said.

"I assume that everything in his life is as an open book. Now may I ask that the members give consideration to my proposed change in the rules?" Wammack asked. "I rather expected that I came here in 60 or 90 days at the outside, but we have been here seven months
and we have hardly made a start.
We're drifting into the situation
they had in Illinois where the people were disgusted with the entire convention and voted to disapprove
its efforts."

"Let the record show that I'm like the old lady who was kicked by the cow—I consider the source," Con-
well said.

ence of the future will be based not on Darwinism, but on Mendellism.
"Mendellism," he said, "produced a tremendous breach in the structure of Darwinism; at times it seemed to have brought the entire edifice to the ground. This is it that has given life opening to the anti-Darwinism, the hereditarianism. This is a fact present time. It has left the problem of evolution and its method in a far different position—a position which, superficially, at least, is much weaker, a defenseless position, an aggressive position. This is a fact seemingly not fully realized by some enthusiastic partisans of Darwinism,
with the result that opponents more abreast of the times take them at a disadvantage."

Pasteur's Work Described.
Dr. Vaughan, in his eulogy of Pasteur, told of his discovery of the nature of fermentation, and his subsequent work in preventing the spoilage of wine and other ferments.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Suggestions for Traffic Regulation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

EVERY day we read in your paper reports of death, injuries and property damages by automobiles on the public streets. Reckless drivers and careless persons on foot are primarily the cause of more than 50 per cent of such accidents. To lessen accidents and for public safety, the following is suggested for control of automobile traffic and parking on public streets:

Automobiles should not be allowed to park both sides, on streets having double track car lines. One-way traffic and no left turns should be the rule east of Eighteenth, for Locust, Olive, Pine and Chestnut. North and south bound traffic could be regulated along the same lines.

Permit no parking of automobiles or other vehicles within 50 feet of street intersections, so that people on foot and those driving can have a clear view of street corners. Left-hand turns are dangerous and most confusing for the reason that at corners vehicles may turn four ways, a fact that often happens. Here we have, for the man on foot and the one driving, four corners to watch, besides the straight run crossings. These are dangerous facts, particularly dangerous in a congested district; therefore, the necessity for strict safety measures and no left-hand turns. Sixth, Seventh and Eighth streets are good examples of one-way traffic. On these streets you look only one way for the oncoming danger. On streets where parking is permitted it should be confined to one side only. For one-way streets, it should be the left side of the traffic.

In justice to merchants and owners of property, automobiles should not be allowed to occupy space in front of stores all day. It is a feature that is not tolerated in any other American city, tank trucks excepted. Strangers comment unfavorably upon the unsightly lines of automobiles pre-empting space on both sides of the public thoroughfares, obscuring the stores and shops.

AUTOMOBILIST.

We Hope That Settles It.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I HAVE just received clippings of your paper containing the correspondence between Dr. Augustus G. Pohlman and Mr. Louis Dodge in regard to Dr. Hadwain's recent lecture in St. Louis on vivisection. I note that Dr. Pohlman is especially exercised over the question of what introduced "this undesirable alien," as he calls Dr. Hadwain, into our country, and so I hope you will grant me a little space in your column in order that I may relieve the good doctor's mind.

I am the person most responsible for having sent "this undesirable alien" through Canada and the United States this autumn in response to a demand from a great number of anti-vivisection and humane societies and individuals from Maine to California, a demand due not only to Dr. Hadwain's recognized standing as a British physician and anti-vivisection leader, but also from his success in meeting all the arguments of American vivisectionists and their apologists on his former visit to California in the spring of 1921.

How to Be Elected.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

YOUR editorial on a Prosecuting Attorney's attitude as to bonds in criminal cases, calls attention to a type of officials who get into office by giving covert friendly glances to the friends of the law-breaking and law-evading classes, while at the same time loudly proclaiming official virtues to numerous well-intentioned but simple-minded and gullible citizens in various church and other gatherings. Thus Mr. "Theodore Both Ways" corals the votes of both the vicious and of the simple-minded, and wins at the election.

There are some judges and other officials charged with the administration of the law who have obtained their positions by that method. The simple-minded and gullible good are a very large element in our voting population, and, though wishing and intending otherwise, are mainly responsible for the election successes of this class of officials.

OBSERVER.

Three Views of the Klan.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

JEWISH in my blood, Christian in my belief and Masonic in my belongings, allow me to protest with all the earnestness I can command against Jews who defend the Ku Klux Klan, against Christian ministers who champion these unrighteous knights of midnight, and against Masons who are so stupid as not to see the fall of Masonry along with the rise of the Ku Klux Klan. Any endorsement of this disreputable, unpatriotic and anarchistic organization is a shot at the greatest Jew of all the ages, the Man of Galilee; a shot at the greatest institution of civilization, the Christian church; and a shot at the greatest fraternal order in the world, the Masonic Fraternity. I stand with my Jewish brethren, with my Christian colleagues and with my Masonic comrades. I stand for my country, one and indivisible; for my country's laws and my country's courts. To hell with the K. K. K.

BERNARD GRUENSTEIN.

"MORAL INFLUENCE."

Let those who condemned our Government for meeting Old World desolation with American isolation hide their abashed heads. It is a dastardly libel to accuse our administration of having answered the appeals of the European nations by crying: "Throw them out, they're breaking my heart!"

Our Government has spoken. It has made known its generous and self-sacrificing purpose. It has thrown mean caution to the winds. It stands ready and eager to lavish on distracted Europe, in inexhaustible profusion, without qualification, without restriction, its "moral influence."

It stands ready to lavish this moral influence without interest or sinking fund. Our ethical admonitions will dislodge amortization. And we will back every one of them with a super-moral guarantee.

This generosity staggers belief. Beside it mere military guarantees against aggression, mere willingness to scale down uncollectible debts, sink into sordid insignificance.

For it is easy to give out of abundance, but we are offering to pinch ourselves of a commodity that has a famine value to us.

With Heroin massacres, and lynching lawlessness, and K. K. K. bigotry and prohibition hypocrisy all calling on our precious store of moral influence, we are ready to deprive ourselves of it for the sake of our European brothers!

It is indeed a superb spectacle of self-abnegation!

THE SOCIALISTS WIN POLAND.

The victory of the radical Socialist party in the general elections in Poland a few days ago was an event of profound importance, and may deeply alter the general European alignment of nations. The intensity of feeling aroused by the result in Poland is indicated by reports that hostile demonstrations by nationalist partisans attended the inauguration of the new President, Gabriel Narutowicz, who is one of the most widely known radical leaders in Europe.

Poland, which, since its emancipation by the treaty of Versailles, has conducted itself as one of the most reactionary and disturbing elements in the Eastern Hemisphere, may undergo a complete change of front. The Socialist Government may naturally be expected to lean away from France, hitherto the dominant influence in Polish affairs, and incline toward Moscow, heretofore Poland's chief antagonist. The result of the election cannot but be a bitter disappointment to Poincaré's Government, because Poland has been the most important link in the chain of alliances which chauvinist France has been erecting since the armistice.

A conference recently held at Moscow for the limitation of armaments failed because Russia and Poland could not agree on the size of their military forces. It is not improbable that the Narutowicz Government will endeavor to resume these negotiations.

HIRED WITNESSES.

A story of high finance in an unexpected quarter comes from Marion, Ill., where the taking of testimony has begun in the first of the Heroin massacre trials. Rumors of profligacy of expenditure in defense of the poor coal miners charged with that crime were substantiated by one of their lawyers in his opening statement to the jury when he boasted that the United Mine Workers were financing the case and paying the lawyers and expected to pay a hundred union miners $10 a day for alibi testimony in behalf of the defendants.

Information from an actuarial source is that the defense fund, taken by assessment from the wages of the Illinois miners, is $125,000 a month and that it has already reached the total of $635,000. Contribution to this enormous fund by the coal diggers of the State is not a matter of choice. An assessment of 1 per cent was voted upon them at a delegate convention in Peoria five months ago and has been regularly deducted from their earnings ever since.

One of the favorite complaints of labor leaders is that "capital" uses vast sums, on occasion, to oppress them. It is not a matter of remembered record that a lawyer for "capital" has in open court boasted of the promiscuous payment of large fees to witnesses to bolster a case in which it was interested.

While there is no law against "employment" of witnesses at so much a day, it is certainly obvious that the testimony of witnesses who are compensated out of a private fund impairs the credence to which they are entitled.

With a defense fund rapidly mounting into millions, it is difficult to see how the lawyers in the Heroin case can complain, as he did in his opening statement, that the prosecution is a war of "capital" on labor.

THE LONE STRAGGLER.

In the march of civilization Turkey steps ahead of the United States.

No one will deny that the concept and purpose of the League of Nations represent an advanced ideal of civilization—civilization upon a higher plane, on which nations will be brought under the operation of the principles of justice and the operation of law for the maintenance of peace and order. Its purpose is to guarantee peace through the union and co-operation of nations working to resist aggression and for just dealings by means of arbitration and international tribunals. It embraces, also, co-operative effort of the nations to eliminate evils which oppress mankind and undermine civilization.

This higher order of civilization was conceived in America and formulated under the guidance of an American statesman who led the nation through a costly war to establish the new order. Having helped to win the war, America, under the malign influence of partisan politics and factional blocs, fell away from her own ideals. She abandoned her own splendid scheme to maintain world peace and just order.

Turkey, poor old Turkey, damned the world over as barbarous, cruel, unprogressive, the target of scorn and abuse, steps into the breach and proposes to join the League and to submit the protection of the alien peoples within her borders to the guardianship of the League and her own conduct to its regulations of justice, peace and law. It is the solution of the problems which menace the peace of the world—recognized as such even by isolated America—and Turkey accepts it.

America, the boasted leader of the ideals of democracy and progress, still has Russia and Germany as companions on the outside of the League, but unwilling companions; both want to join the League. Shall we become ultimately the lone straggler in the rear of the forward march?

The Earl of Beckett says he will be known as Mr. Beckett in Arizona, where, dropping his title, he will attend the State School of Mines. That is what he thinks, but he does not know the Arizona student body. If he is lucky he may be known as "Beckie" or "Goggles," but if he is not lucky he may be known merely as "You," or "Hey, you," or "Lord George;" or, again, he may not be known at all. One never knows how one will be known in Arizona.

THE "MOVIE TRUST."

The worst of fates has befallen the motion picture industry, if charges made by the Federal Trade Commission are substantiated. The charges, preferred at the end of an exhaustive investigation by the commission are, briefly, that the industry has come under virtually absolute control by two men, Jesse L. Lasky and Adolph Zukor, who are able, by virtue of a marvelous system of interlocking producing and distributing companies, effectively to stifle competition.

The castiron, copper-riveted combine which the report describes is one beside which the Standard Oil Co. pales into a frank, generous and prodigally free-hearted institution. It is the last work in mortal "cinches." An organization distributing 30,000 films a week, supplying 98 per cent of the theaters in the country, and able to compel theater owners to buy a stated number of films whether they want them or not, constitutes a trust magnates' paradise, indeed.

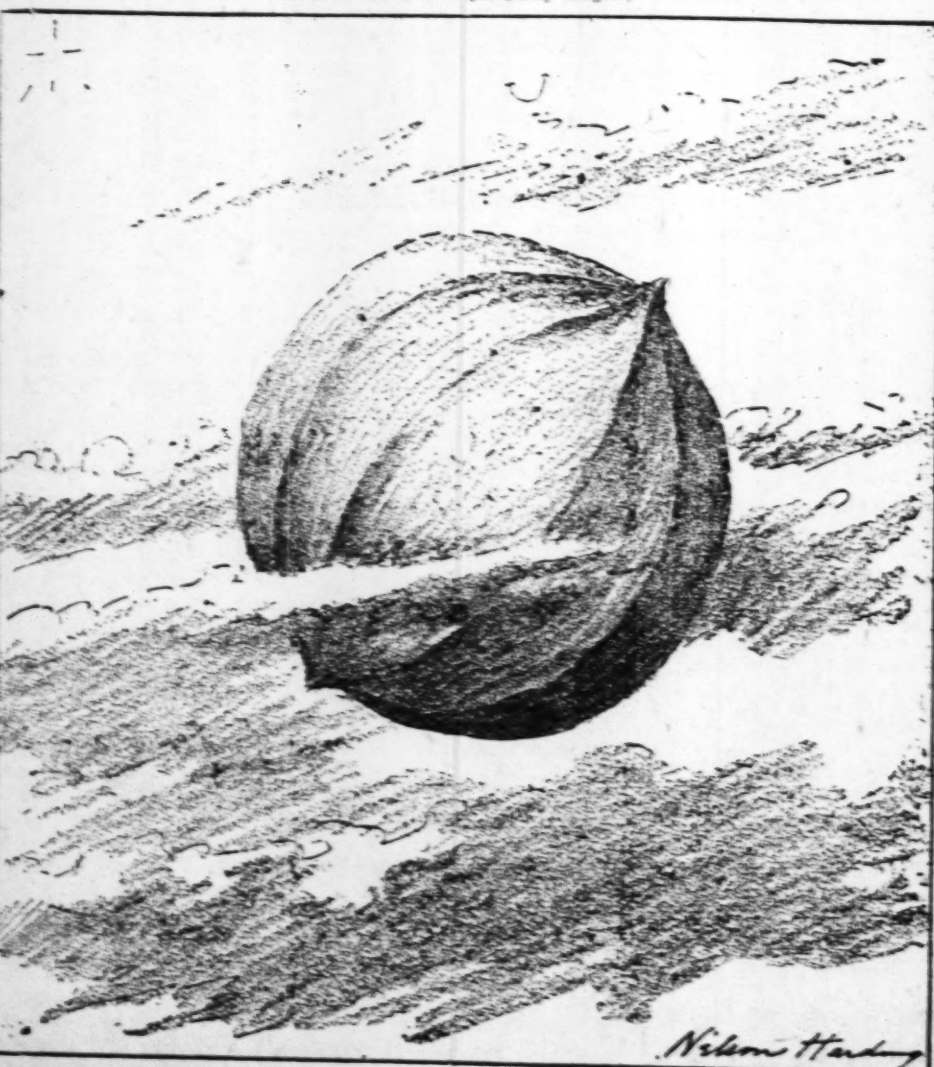

The public is more deeply concerned in this situation than if it affected an ordinary commercial establishment. The motion pictures are not merely an industry, they comprise an agency that is profoundly affecting the minds of an enormous number of persons, especially younger ones. It is appalling to discover that the men in control of the movies—if such is the case—are men who have shown their chief aim to be the making of money easily, quickly, prodigiously, and without scruple. It is disturbing to think that the standard of conduct of the next generation is to be largely influenced by contact with an enterprise which has such sordid motives and methods at its base.

If but half the charges are true, here is a job for a militant Attorney-General—but we have only Harry Daugherty at present. The Federal Trade Commission itself fields a fairly big stick, and has shown a disposition to inquire fearlessly into this condition. More than 50,000,000 movie-going Americans will follow further procedure with deep concern for the result.

Every day in every way it is getting colder and colder.

OUR AFTER-WAR WORLD MUST LOOK GOOD TO THE SQUIRRELS ON MARS.

MR. ANTWERP'S OPINION.

"I DON'T know when we have had a jest equalling in cruelty that played upon Europe by some of our ambassadors." Mr. Antwerp said:

"At a moment when Europe is hanging breathless upon our least utterance in the matter of reparations, when the conference of premiers is seemingly oscillating between peace and war, when France is clamping at the bit in her eagerness to be off for the Ruhr and Washington is as still as the night before Christmas, it gets out that our ambassadors at Berlin and Brussels have set out for London to meet the inscrutable and incomparable Ambassador Harvey!"

"It was not necessary that Europe, considering the tension of her nerves, the certainty that the United States could not always remain aloof and the mysterious ways in which the Harding administration moves its blunders to perform, should have understood fully what a possible business this grave matter could be to mere figureheads in diplomacy such as our ambassadors are. It was enough that with their heads shining in the aura of the stars and stripes, and trailing them like comet tails, the indisputable authority of American disinterestedness, these two continental gentlemen did cross the channel to join that most insular and detached of our ambassadors and the one perhaps most likely to be invested with authority if any were granted."

"It is only by its outward show that we may ever guess what diplomacy is probably doing. In this instance the external evidence that the United States was about to move diplomatically to avert a resumption of war was all that the worst of prophets could have asked. What did we propose doing? Had we exhausted our patience upon the incorrigible French? Had Mr. Harding, so long certain of our complete isolation from the troubles of Europe, finally discovered that these troubles are also our own? Had the unbelievable Mr. Hughes, mistaking a tea of troubles for the placid sky, suddenly heard the roar of the tempest and piped all hands on deck?"

"Europe could only guess. She did guess, too-guessed with a hopeful and palpitant heart. Then the debacle came. From the sublimation of her expectations of what probably was happening Europe passed to the ridiculousness of disillusionment. She had dreamed—and she was awake again. Our ambassadors at Berlin and Brussels—and this has since been confirmed to the size of the buttons—had gone to London to confer with Col. Harvey as to the proper ambassadorial clothes for the holiday season! While Europe panted their thoughts were of pants!"

"God bless our ambassadors—they had not meant to let anyone down cruelly from a great expectation. How were they to know, when Washington told them nothing, that the premiers were at the moment meeting in London to decide the fate of Europe?"

"They could not, of course, have known. Thank God they were innocent!" Mr. Antwerp exclaimed.

Mr. Harvey is a plan to end, as concerns our relations with Europe, what seems to be a policy of drift.

Send the new Congress over, in a body, to observe conditions, each member for himself, on the spot.

Such a visit would commit us to nothing except perhaps the probability of an embargo against buncombe about foreign affairs, in our national legislature. That would be all to the good, but more important, from it might follow some constructive action.

Everyone is welcome to list the objections to such a trip he thinks of; for example, the professional diplomats would expire of laughter; George Harvey might consider it a reflection on his ability and resign; Congress might be seasick; the temptations of Paris would lead some good men astray; Balfour might hypnotize our Jamie and Mussolini annoy Cabot Lodge; Europe might lose faith in democracy after viewing some of our representatives (fill in your own selections); the Constitution does not provide for it; the people would rise in rebellion at the expense; and so on to exhaustion.

Opposite this catalogue of hazards, and offsetting it, are the simple facts that the American people desire to be helped (but do not know how to go about it) and Congress alone has the power to translate the desire into action. We are puzzled by conflicting statements from Europe; as we cannot go ourselves to discover the facts, we must send representatives, why not, then, send the representatives we have already chosen who are free to act without further authority. No one can fairly question their intelligence and gumption, or that they represent the nation.

Hartford Courant: "One of the New York newspapers which gave a lengthy account of the escape of Mrs. Phillips from the Los Angeles County Jail expressed surprise that the lady left a number of things in her cell and wonders why she did not take these things, which included her shoes, with her. Since she first crawled through a hole in the prison window 13 by 11 inches and then was either pulled up onto the prison roof by means of a rope let down to her, or else clamped the roof edge, chinned herself, and scrambling up on the sloping eaves, after which she walked to a drain pipe and slid down it to reach the roof of another building, from which she in some fashion managed to reach the ground, it seems hardly surprising that she did not carry with her a rosary, crucifix, a picture of her husband, some jars of cold cream, a bottle of pickles, a can of sardines, a number of sacred pictures, a book of sardines, a book of Christianity, a prayer book, a white ivory vanity mirror, a package of gum, a few coins, three iron bars wrapped in a flannellette nightgown, the suit and hat worn during her trial, and a vase of blood-red roses."

WHY IGNORANCE IS BLISS.

(Ohio State Journal.)

It is said that, if the first water in which beans destined for baking are soaked is not poured off, the result of partaking freely of the finished product is extremely serious, if not actually fatal, and we can't help wondering in our terrified way, as we sit at huddled up here, trying to get one more day's work done before anything happens, if our housekeeper is growing absent-minded in her old age or if it's merely something else.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

ISLE OF PINES.

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A TREATY negotiated by Theodore Roosevelt and referred to the Senate for ratification nearly 19 years ago was pulled from a pigeon hole a few days ago and reported favorably to the foreign relations committee. It relates to an issue much discussed a dozen years ago, now apparently of no general public interest, it fixes the status of the Isle of Pines as a possession of the United States. The general assumption was that immediately after the Spanish War this island off the southern coast of Cuba would belong to the United States. On the assumption there were large investments of American capital made for developing the island as a citrus fruit resource. What the Americans wished was that the island should become a county of Florida, though Cuba itself has been between the state and the island. No explanation is given at Washington as to why this old ratified treaty should now be revived and referred to the Senate. Possibly, the incident has relation to the approaching close of America's latest adventure in Cuban restoration. It is high time for the status of the Isle of Pines to be settled officially and finally, though a great many Americans would still prefer to have the island brought permanently under their own governmental jurisdiction.

THE AMERICAN LANGUAGE.

From the Detroit News.

D. R. WILLIAM ALLAN NEILSON, professor of Smith College, deprecates the use of slang as "business" and in general reproaches the American public with abuses of what used to be called "the king's English." It is an interesting subject, and much that Dr. Neilson says has ponderous merit of truth. Yet the subject is much larger than Dr. Neilson makes it. It is not a question of slang, but of the language of the people. The truth is that the people own the language. They create it. It grows constantly. They find a word like "movie" and adopt it. In the beginning it is magnificent, an error of speech; usage accepts it and it is assimilated by the common language which (and not the dictionary) is the power of language. What so many pedants object to is that there is a distinct American language, individual in its growth and instinct as any other tongue springing from a common root. POLITICAL "LANDSLIDES."

From the Chicago Abendpost.

THE Republican landslide of 1922 is now plainly to have been merely the expression of the great dissatisfaction of the people with the Wilson government. The Republicans were not because there was no other party that could assume the reins of government, but the ratification of this arrangement was to be made to them on Nov. 7, provided they had themselves worthy. Now the people have shown their disaffection by a landslide. Democrats where no progressive Republicans could be found. Prohibition has met with a greater defeat, which, it may be hoped, will give the first impulse to conquering the sort of a Kansas. Congressmen as well as Senators want to be re-elected, hence to keep in the wishes of their voters, so many of the legislators may now feel themselves called upon to come out openly for a modification of senseless Volstead law. The mixed result of the local election is chiefly due to the split between the Republicans, the two groups splitting either in the most bitter way. It is quite likely that many voters have given their preference to the Democrats because they became tired of Republican quarrel.

Adolescent Showed His Clay Heel. Mr. H. was an orphan with three cars, an Adirondack place, a permanent apartment in New York, and an income of $40,000 a year. I decided that when he was a little older we'd have a Vandyke to keep people from saying I'd married him for his money. And then one night we went to dinner where he couldn't sign the check, and he counted out the money from his bill-fold under the table. A girl with an orange hat is riding in his Locomobile now.

POLLYANDRA.

The first thing most of the commentators will say to Mr. George Horner Lorimer's observation that the world is full of mighty dull writers is that Mr. Lorimer's Statepost prints more than his share of dull stories. That is the sort of comment usually indulged in by those who don't read the Statepost. One of the articles of the Intelligencer's Credo is that the Post prints nothing but stories glorifying the business success of the 100 per cent American, yet we shouldn't wonder if the percentage of excellence, readability, and fiction-technique in the Statepost stories weren't at least as high as that of any other magazine—and certainly higher than that of any other weekly.

"A good deal of their fiction," the Globe comments, "is too long. It is, and we have an explanation. The first story a writer sends the Post is paid for at a certain rate. For his second story, the writer gets, it is likely, a larger check, though the story is no longer than the first." "This," thinks the writer—and justly—"is pretty handsome." I'll make this story an extra 1000 words long. And so it goes. But when Mr. Lorimer says that the world is full of mighty dull writers, we quarrel with him. At least, we offer a warranty. The world is full of mighty dull writers, mighty dull playwrights, mighty dull composers and mighty dull painters. And mighty dull readers. But not nearly so dull as they were, all of them, 50, 100 years ago.

Speaking of writing that is anything but dull, read "Births," by Anna Gale, and "Anne Severn and the Fieldings," by May Sinclair.

It Seems to Me

By HEYWOOD BROWN.

NEW YORK. A number of people have begun to worry because of their belief that young writing men and women in America are too contemptuous of tradition. "John Erskine declares in the North American Review," says an editorial in the Evening Post, "that Anglo-Saxon lands show less respect for continuity and tradition in art than France. In Paris the young poet visualizes himself grasping a brand torch and says, 'Hugo and De Musset were great men who went far, and I will go further.' In America Prof. Erskine thinks he would say: 'Tennyson and Longfellow were on the wrong track, and I will blaze a new path.'"

But why shouldn't the young American poet say exactly that? To say anything else would be false to a tradition far more imposing than the tradition of Longfellow. The debt of modern American poetry to Whitman is obvious and acknowledged.

In somewhat the same manner the Times, in commenting on an article by Dorothy Canfield in the Bookman, says: "Certain things it would be easy to draw up the code or creed of the 'intellectuals'—must be believed. They are believed by many; and the fathers of the contemporary faith do their best to enforce it upon the public. If you have an inferiority complex, how pleasant it is to show yourself impregnable superior to Puritans and old fogies and reactionaries and people generally unfortunate enough to have been born before 1900, at least before 1890."

Whatever may have been the failings of the Puritans they excelled all other settlers in choosing adroit press agents. We find the Times speaking as if there were no ancient American tradition except that of the Puritans. It seems to me quite probable that the Dutch who came to this country before the expedition to Plymouth Rock may well have hated the Puritans just as heartily as the most modern of the young intellectuals. Moreover, we have little doubt that Scott Fitzgerald would have fitted admirably into the life of the early Virginians, however heroic he might have seemed to the Bradfords, the Cabots and the Lodges.

There is nothing new in opposition to Puritanism. Mencken is by no means the first of his line. Fortunately America is not restricted to choosing the Puritan tradition or none at all. We have a right to acknowledge only our past fogies. Nobody enjoyed the Puritans particularly while they were alive and there is no reason why they should be satisfied because they are dead.

In Miss Canfield's article in the Bookman called "Nietzschean Pilgrims Fathers" we find: "All that we had done, apparently, was to vary the kind of intimidation from the kind that had not suited our tastes to the kind that did. We had summoned people to free themselves from the tyrannical dicta of preachers in the pulpits, and had clapped upon them the other tyranny of the radical magazines."

Miss Canfield professes to see no vital difference in the two kinds of intimidation. She seems to suggest that the threat, "If you think that, you will burn eternally in hell fire" is no more terrifying than the warning, "If you think that, you will be roasted in the next issue of the New Republic." To be sure, some of the people who were threatened didn't happen to believe in hell, but that matter—

"Were they getting any more chance to be themselves," continues Miss Canfield, "or were they being bullied into believing what radical thinkers told them to believe rather than what they really did believe? Were people with a mystical, poetic, religious turn of mind getting any fairer show now than people with a logical, clean-cut turn of mind had when we were 20? When we said 'self-expression' did we mean 'self-expression' or did we mean the expression of Bernard Shaw's wit? Did we not yell 'sentimental hypocrisy' at people who ventured to express other personalities than the brisk, clear-eyed, level-headed, disillusioned type which happened to suit our fancy?"

This seems to us as curious a misconception of the purposes of Shaw as we ever encountered. If Miss Canfield thinks of him as a "disillusioned type" we wonder if she has ever read either "Man and Superman" or more particularly "Back to Methuselah."

MISS HALLIE CLARKSON WILL MARRY ARTIST

Marriage to Harland Fraser to Be Performed in Ballroom of Woman's Club.

IN the ballroom of the St. Louis Woman's Club, festooned with smilax and garlanded with roses, the bride tomorrow evening of Harland H. Fraser, the St. Louis artist. An altar has been erected in front of the two large mirrors at the north end of the room, flanked on either side by large French baskets of Columbia roses and baby's breath, and here the marriage service will be read by the Rev. Dr. Ivan Lee Holt of St. John's Methodist Episcopal Church. Mrs. John E. Mitchell Jr., the matron of honor, will precede the bride to the altar. Her gown is of soft filmy lace selling pale pink chiffon. The drapery has been caught low at the side with a garland of flowers, and from either side of the back at the waistline will fall short chiffon trains. Her headpiece will be of pearls, woven into a coronet, and she will carry pink roses.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will be crowned in white velvet, made on long, straight lines with no trimming except for orange blossoms, which will hold the skirt drapery at the side. The neck line will be low and square and there will be short velvet sleeves. A silver-lined velvet court train will hang from the shoulders, and over this will fall the tulle bridal veil, caught to her coiffure with a Russian headpiece of orange blossoms.

She will carry orchids and lilies of the valley. George W. Clarkson Jr., brother of the bride, will serve Mr. Fraser as best man. There will be 350 guests who will remain for a reception. Mr. Fraser and his bride will go to New York for a honeymoon trip of several weeks, and upon their return to St. Louis will be at the Gatesworth Hotel until their apartment has been prepared for occupancy.

Miss Clarkson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Clarkson, of 5412 Cabanne avenue. She studied art at Washington University and the Art League in New York. She has served three times as a maid of honor at the Villedel Prophet ball. Mr. Fraser is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fraser, 5759 Westminster place. He served in the navy during the war.

Social Items

At least two large dinners, at which the guests will include the debutantes of this season and some of those who came out last year, will precede the Busch ball to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Leo de Smet-Cartier will entertain the debutantes of this season and their escorts at a dinner at the St. Louis Country Club in honor of Miss Alice Scott and Miss Helen Gratz.

The guests will include Misses Margaret Turner, Christine Viehs, Elizabeth Carter, Mabel Thompson, Marceline Reyburn, Elizabeth Grayson, Virginia Cabanne Link, Mary Carmen Ryan, Elizabeth Boeckeler, Jane Nugent, Claire Gasean, Eleanor Richards, Nano Goddard, Mary Lemon Riddle, Louise Woodruff and Henriette de Penaloza and Messrs. 205 Applications So Far—Summer Chorus of 100 Persons to Be Chosen From Students.

Only two more days remain for singers to apply for admission to the 1923 Municipal Opera Chorus School, to open Thursday night, Jan. 4, at Hibernian Hall, Grand boulevard and Finney avenues. Application must be made at the offices of the Municipal Theater Association, 1878 Arcade Building, which will remain open until 6 p. m. tomorrow to receive last-minute applications.

Up to yesterday 205 St. Louisans, by applying for admission to the school, had expressed a desire to try for places in the 1923 opera chorus. As is known, the entire summer opera chorus of 100 is chosen from the students. The expenses of the school are borne by the Municipal Theater Association and all that is asked of applicants is that they pass a necessary vocal examination and agree to serve in the chorus, which will be selected, absence from two consecutive classes bars the student from further participation.

All preliminary work will be finished prior to the meeting of the first class. Examination of applicants is being made this week by William A. Parson, chorus master of the Municipal Opera Company, who will supervise instruction. Parson has been associated with the opera enterprise since its beginning in 1919 and was in charge of last year's chorus school, the first in connection with the annual summer opera season. Classes will convene regularly on Monday and Thursday nights until May 1.

"George Washington," in which he appeared as Lafayette.

Sam F. Meyerson Jr. will arrive in St. Louis soon from the West, where he has been attending college, to spend the holidays with his parents, at their home, 5739 Cabanne avenue.

Miss Barbara H. Bay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Bay of 6440 Cecil avenue, returned to St. Louis today from Millbrook, N. Y., where she has been attending the Bennett School. Miss Bay will spend the holidays with her parents and return to Millbrook after New Year's.

Mrs. Emma Fret of 1206 Hamilton avenue entertained 12 guests at a luncheon Wednesday afternoon.

Members of the College Club, with Miss Gertrude Prack as chairman, will have charge of the Missouri Association for Occupational Therapy's sale of handicraft articles tomorrow at 916 Olive street. The sale will close tomorrow evening. Articles made by disabled war veterans and patients in hospitals and institutions are to be on display.

Miss Angela Black of 714 Alamo drive has departed for Springfield, Mo., to attend the Christmas dance at Drury College. She will be the hostess of the Christmas dance. Both girls will return to St. Louis early next week and Miss Chamberlain will be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Chamberlain of 5948 Clemens avenue, for the holidays.

Miss V. Larew Nicola, who is a student at Sullins College, Bristol, Va., will spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Nicola of 6029 Washington boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Sig J. Lang of Pershing avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Vivienne Lang, and Arthur Salsburg of Philadelphia.

Miss Lang is a musician and a member of the Friday and Wednesday Musicals.

Mr. Salsburg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Salsburg of Philadelphia and Atlantic City. Mrs. Lang and her daughter returned Tuesday from the East. While they were in Philadelphia a number of parties were given for them, including a reception at the Mercantile Club, of which Mr. Salsburg is a member. The wedding will take place soon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Edward O'Neill of New York and their three children will arrive in St. Louis, Dec. 21, to spend Christmas with Mrs. O'Neill's mother, Mrs. J. Moore of the Parkhurst Hotel.

Only two more days remain for singers to apply for admission to the 1923 Municipal Opera Chorus School, to open Thursday night, Jan. 4, at Hibernian Hall, Grand boulevard and Finney avenues. Application must be made at the offices of the Municipal Theater Association, 1878 Arcade Building, which will remain open until 6 p. m. tomorrow to receive last-minute applications.

Up to yesterday 205 St. Louisans, by applying for admission to the school, had expressed a desire to try for places in the 1923 opera chorus. As is known, the entire summer opera chorus of 100 is chosen from the students. The expenses of the school are borne by the Municipal Theater Association and all that is asked of applicants is that they pass a necessary vocal examination and agree to serve in the chorus, which will be selected, absence from two consecutive classes bars the student from further participation.

All preliminary work will be finished prior to the meeting of the first class. Examination of applicants is being made this week by William A. Parson, chorus master of the Municipal Opera Company, who will supervise instruction. Parson has been associated with the opera enterprise since its beginning in 1919 and was in charge of last year's chorus school, the first in connection with the annual summer opera season. Classes will convene regularly on Monday and Thursday nights until May 1.

"GRINGO" TRUE STAGE PICTURE OF MEXICO

Material in Miss Sophie Treadwell's Play Is Convincing, Critic Says.

By HEYWOOD BROWN, Dramatic Critic of the New York World.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—"Gringo," probably brings a more authentic picture of Mexico to the stage than any play which the American theater has known. We are not talking on our knowledge of the fact that Sophie Treadwell, who devised the new piece at the Comedy Theater, is well acquainted with life beyond the Rio Grande and has written ten vivid newspaper stories about Villa, who evidently serves as the model for the most interesting character in "Gringo." The more important requirement, that the material should seem true, has been accomplished.

And yet the play seems to us inferior to Porter Emerson Brown's "The Bad Man," which concerned itself with a figure similar to Miss Treadwell's Tito, Brown didn't begin to know as much about Mexico as Miss Treadwell, but he was more at ease and better versed in the ways of the theater. Of course, that isn't altogether surprising.

"Gringo" is a first play, or at any rate the first play of the author to find professional production. It seems to us, then, that there is a piece, best defined as ironic comedy, of great promise and some extraordinarily interesting achievement which does not quite come off.

Too Much for Three Acts. We don't know why, but we are inclined to think that it lies in the fact that there is rather too much to be told in the space of three acts. There are, in effect, two sets of characters, some Mexican and others American. The story of Mexican life absorbed our attention completely, but we found only the mildest interest in the fate of the Americans whose lives happen to run parallel.

The most successful figures are a bandit leader, delightfully played by Jose Ruben, and a 16-year-old girl of mixed blood superbly impersonated by Edna Hibbard. The play deals with the exceedingly precocious security of the half-caste miss who finds no understanding and no sympathy among her American associates, including her father, and finally achieves happiness in being abducted by the bandit chief.

In the last act she has to make a choice as to whether she shall go with the adventurer in his roaming through the mountains or return to the ledge of civilization on which her father has held her. Without hesitation she chooses her swagging lover. All that is well motivated, thoroughly comprehensible and exceedingly dramatic.

Secondary Situation. But Miss Treadwell has chosen to make this secondary serve as a parallel for a somewhat similar emotional situation between three of her American characters. We have a young man who has fled to Mexico to avoid the draft, his wife and an entirely contented heroic young mining expert. With a suddenness which did not quite avoid the blight of

HENRY P. WYMAN FUNERAL TO BE IN ST. LOUIS SUNDAY

Former Assistant Postmaster Here Died Wednesday in Brooklyn at Age of 81.

Funeral services for Henry P. Wyman, 81 years old, former Assistant Postmaster of St. Louis and eldest son of the late Prof. Edward Wyman, noted educator, who died Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. M. Tuttle in Brooklyn, N. Y., will be held Sunday from the First Presbyterian Church, Sarah avenue and Washington boulevard. The body is expected to reach here tomorrow. Interment will be in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Wyman was born at Hillsboro, Ill. He resided in St. Louis until about seven years ago, when he moved to Chicago, where he was active in the war he entered the customs service and was Chief Deputy Collector for the Port of St. Louis for 14 years. While acting in this capacity he was instrumental in obtaining the passage of the Direct Importation Act, a measure providing that imports from abroad be consigned to interior cities might come through American seaports without being stopped for inspection.

In 1881 he became secretary of the St. Louis and Mississippi Valley Transportation Co., and was a pioneer in barge line service on the Mississippi. He was noted for his interest in school and church affairs. Wyman Institute, now the Western Military Academy at Alton, Ill., and Lindenwood College at St. Charles were among his educational hobbies.

Wyman was the eldest of five sons. He was appointed Assistant Postmaster under his brother, Frank Wyman, in 1903. He is survived by two brothers, Frank Wyman of 5845 Cabanne avenue, and Arthur Wyman of Chicago, a son, Leigh Wyman of 3957 Westminster place, and a daughter, Mrs. Tuttle. Death was due to infirmity caused by advanced age.

Southern Surgeons Elect Officers. MEMPHIS, Dec. 15.—Dr. James F. Mitchell, of Washington, was elected president of the Southern Surgical Association, in session here yesterday. The new council of the organization includes Dr. James E. Thompson of Galveston, Tex., and Dr. Willard Bartlett of St. Louis.

24 AUTO ACCIDENTS REPORTED LAST NIGHT

Six Resulted in Injury to Nine Persons—Slippery Streets
Chief Cause.

The slippery condition of the streets last night was reported by the police as a cause of 24 automobile accidents in which no one was injured, and six which resulted in injury to nine persons.

Three women waiting for a street car at the northeast corner of Lafayette avenue and Eighteenth street were knocked down and injured at 5:15 p. m. when they were "sideswiped" by an automobile driven west on the car tracks by Gus A. Bauer, 21, of 2916 Arkansas avenue.

Bauer said the automobile skidded when he attempted to turn out of the car tracks to avoid the women. Miss Margaret Duddy, 29, of 3208 Montgomery street, suffered a fractured shoulder and lacerations, and Mrs. Muriel Monahan, 61, of 1225 North Twentieth street, and Mrs. Eva Stauder, 47, of 2719 Gravois avenue, were cut and bruised. They were taken to the city hospital, whence Mrs. Monahan was taken home. Bauer was charged with felonious wounding.

Persons hurt in other accidents and their injuries are: Nora Bayes, actress, and her pianist, Dudley Wilkinson, Hotel Statler, cuts: Frank Walbridge, 28, of 1316 South Fourteenth street, serious lacerations and fractured left leg; Edward Lawrence, 48, of 1515 North Twenty-fifth street, broken right hip; right arm and scalp wounds; Victor Ritayik, 23, of 2833 Magnolia avenue, cut ear and injured skull bone behind the ear; and Gus Till, 2212 Wyoming streets, cuts.

Miss Bayes and Wilkinson were riding east on Locust street in an automobile owned by Julius Walsh Jr., 4499 Lindell boulevard, en route to their hotel, when at Twentieth street the car collided with a delivery truck. Miss Bayes was cut on the head by flying glass.

COMPROMISE IN DAMAGE AWARD

Teamster to Take Half of $35,000
Verdict Against U. R.
William N. Gordon, teamster, who was granted a judgment of $35,000 against the United Railways by a jury in Circuit Judge Davis' court Oct. 27, last, agreed in the same court today to accept one-half the amount awarded him. The court indicated after the jury's verdict it would grant the United Railways a new trial unless Gordon committed one-half the judgment. Gordon suffered an injury to his right hand, which made it necessary for him to have the hand amputated. He also sustained a fracture of the collar bone and other injuries May 29, 1931, when an ice wagon he was driving was struck by a street car at Vandeventer avenue and Gratiot street.

EDUCATORS PAY TRIBUTE TO MENDEL AND PASTEUR

beverages. Later he spent six years in studying and conquering the diseases of the French silkworms, and for this service the French Government awarded him an annuity of 12,000 francs. This was increased, after his work in discovering an antidote for rabies, to 25,000 francs.

Before Pasteur, the speaker said, it was believed that the smaller organisms were generated spontaneously, and there was even a recipe for the production of mice—sprinkle bits of cotton felt with cheese, and leave them in a closet, and mice would come into existence. Pasteur proved that no organism comes into being spontaneously. "That the bacillus of tuberculosis has an ancestry, and that the pus germs which cause the boil on your neck may be the lineal descendant of those that fed on the bones of Job."

Telling of the results which Pasteur achieved by experiments upon animal, Dr. Vaughan said that if the opponents of vivisection could see the enlightened opinion of the animals themselves, they would probably find them disposed to bless Pasteur for his work, which has saved the lives of myriads of cattle, swine and poultry.

Appreciated by France.
"Pasteur was fortunate in being a Frenchman," said the speaker, who cited as proving the appreciation of his work by his countrymen, the fact that in a vote taken for the greatest Frenchman, Pasteur received 12,000,000 votes and Napoleon Bonaparte 2,000,000.

President Robison of the university, in the closing address, summing up the characters and achievements of the two scientists, said:

"Oh, if all the devotees of science were like Mendel and Pasteur! Very many are; but would that there were no exceptions! If the true scientific spirit of earnestness and honesty and modesty and humility were ever and always the lamp to the feet of those who are on the quest for truth, the hearts of the true lovers of science would ever be saddened by spectacles which would be comical, if they did not cloak a soul's tragedy; they would never be pained by the sight of men, learned in physics or mechanics and the like, enacting the role of prophets in Israel, discoursing with solemn wisdom on the mysteries of the hereafter—and disposing of everything with a summary wave of the hand. Such men forget—poor, little men!—they forget to be humble and to realize their limitations—and they meet the fate that causes the judicious to mourn."

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR AMERICAN CHILDREN

When the Fighting Started, the Conservatives
Among the Colonists Hoped for a Complete Surrender by the Rebels to the King.

Putnam's Force Was Almost Surrounded.
By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."
(Copyright, 1922.)

THE ball was opened by Gen. Howe and his red-coats, who on the 22nd of August, moved up toward Brooklyn, and camped only a short distance away from the Americans. Gen. Greene had most unfortunately been taken ill, and Washington had sent over Gen. Israel Putnam to take his place.

Now, Gen. Putnam was a staunch patriot and a very brave man. Indeed, once when he was quite a young man, he had followed a huge wolf down into its den and killed it at close quarters with his hunting knife. But, although he had had a good bit of military experience during the French and Indian wars, he was not a great military genius. It was obvious that Gen. Howe was going to try to capture him and his whole army, and Gen. Putnam did not know quite how to prevent it.

On the night of August the 26th, Howe divided his men into three detachments. He sent the first detachment to the left, up along the shore. The second, he told to march straight up through Flatbush, which would bring them face to face with the Americans the next morning. The third detachment he himself led in a wide detour around to the right. When morning came, Gen. Putnam found his army surrounded on three sides by British soldiers. On the fourth side were the deep, chilly waters of the East River. There was only one thing to do, march behind the intrenchments which had been thrown up in the village of Brooklyn, and try and hold the British off as long as possible. This Gen. Putnam did, but when his little army was safe behind these earthworks, 1500 men failed to answer their names at roll-call. Four hundred lay dead or severely wounded, on the flat, sunny fields outside the village, and 1100 had been captured by Howe.

Fifteen hundred soldiers was a very severe loss to the army of the patriots. Gen. Putnam could not possibly hope to break out through the British lines and reach Manhattan Island. There was only one thing for him to do: Stay where he was, behind his defenses, and wait for some one to come to his rescue.

He could take it for granted that Gen. Washington had heard of his plight for news traveled fast in this comparatively densely settled part of the colonies. Nor was the tidings of Putnam's ill luck received with regret by all those who had watched the fight from the other side of the river. For many years New York had been sharply divided into two extremely hostile parties. And now that the English fleet was within sight, the conservative elements (which talked much of "law and order" and broke every ordinance whenever it was possible to further the interests of the King) became more aggressive than they had dared to be ever since the evacuation of Boston. And in many a tavern they drank the health of King George and expressed the wish that the morning might bring the glad news of a complete surrender on the part of the rebels. And then they went to bed, but Putnam with his harassed men kept wide awake, for any moment might bring the decision.

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

PARENTS OFFER REWARD FOR SON, 14, MISSING SINCE OCT. 31

Richard T. Stears Disappeared Halloween Night; Negro Also Goes after Being Questioned.
Mr. and Mrs. George B. Stears, of the West Harlan Court Apartments, 5483 Delmar boulevard, have offered a liberal reward for information leading to the recovery of their son, Richard T. Stears, 14 years old, who disappeared Halloween night, Oct. 31. A negro employee of the garage at the apartments, who had been questioned about the boy, disappeared six days later.

Afterwards he wrote the family a letter from Alton, Ill., saying he had had two letters from the boy, but giving no details. This is the only word that has come from Richard or the negro. City detectives are working on the case. The amount of the reward is not specified. Stears is a civil engineer in Government employ.

Kroger Man Says He Routed Robber
Charles Muse of 2703 Washington boulevard, manager of a Kroger grocery at 2679 Lucas avenue, told police last night that he had bested an armed robber who attempted to hold him up in the store at 6 p. m. He said he pushed the robber's revolver to one side with his left arm, hit the holdup man on the jaw with his right fist and then grappled with him. They struggled over the floor, he said, until they were near the front door. The man then broke away and fled.

WALL ST. BOMB SUSPECT BARRED Ellis Island Board Excludes Prisoner Brought From Germany.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—A board of inquiry at Ellis Island has excluded from the United States, Wolfe Lindenfeld, who was brought to this country by the Department of Justice in connection with the Wall Street bomb explosion of Sept. 16, 1920, and has been detained at the island since Thanksgiving Day. It is said to be probable that Wm. J. Burns, of the Department of Justice, will appeal from the decision of the board, in an effort to hold Lindenfeld for further investigation.

HAITI TO OPEN FIRST MODERN HOTEL IN MAYIsland Has No Accommodations of Standards in American
Tourism of 25,000.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Nov. 29.—Haiti is to have her first modern hotel ready for business by May. There is no hotel in the island that approaches the standards of an American town of 25,000, of any of the splendid hostilities of Cuba, Nassau and Jamaica.

Business men of the foreign colonies here have combined with Hal-lian leaders in backing the new enterprise. Ground has been broken on the estate of Edward P. Pawley, on the Bizoton road, which is the pride of the Capital's suburban country. The site overlooks the bay and can be reached from the heart of the city by automobile in 10 minutes. With 126 acres running from the shores of the bay to the foothills, there are facilities for golf, boating, swimming, riding, tennis and trap shooting and magnificent views of the mountains and the bay.

The hotel will be on a comparatively modest scale, with 35 bed-rooms, a main dining room, a dance floor and large roof garden.

Your system demands ALL BRAN
if constipation is to be relieved!

Your system needs the "roughage" that Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, supplies. For, it will not only permanently relieve constipation if it is eaten regularly, but its full content of the vital elements of wheat will build health and strength in a wonderful way.

You need bran in its full and beneficial strength and that's what you get in Kellogg's Bran—ALL BRAN! You eat Kellogg's Bran for relief and you will get relief in a way that nature planned. Foods with a bran mixture cannot help the man, woman or child who faces grave illness through constipation. You must have ALL BRAN—"roughage" that will sweep and clean and purify and bring health back!

Children should be given Kellogg's Bran each day; grown people should eat Kellogg's Bran each day—at least two tablespoonsful, in chronic cases with each meal. Its mechanical action will afford permanent relief.

And, you will find Kellogg's Bran a delight to eat because it is so delicious. As a cereal, sprinkled on other hot or cold cereals, or used in countless bakery batches or in cooking, its nut-like flavor will thrill your appetite—and each spoonful means so much in permanently relieving constipation and in warding off this gravest national ailment. Kellogg's recipes are printed on each package.

Start the entire family eating Kellogg's Bran today. See the color come back to faded cheeks; see the snap that will go into lagging steps. Kellogg's Bran is wonderful. All grocers sell it!

TURK ENTRY INTO LEAGUE VIEWED AS GREAT PEACE STEPAllied Diplomats Look for Expected Ottoman Co-operation to Impart New Strength to Organization.TURKS DESIRE TO WESTERNIZE COUNTRYMen From Angora and Constantinople at Peace Conference and Their Wives
Dress in European Style.

By the Associated Press.
LAUSANNE, Dec. 15.—European diplomats here believe that the expected admission of Turkey to the League of Nations will impart new vigor and a new meaning to that organization. From the beginning of the Near East peace conference the Turkish leaders have stressed their desire to Westernize their country, and European statesmen who have seen in the league a substantial machine contributing effectively to world peace are convinced wholeheartedly of cooperation by Turkey in the league's affairs would prove an important step in the maintenance of a general peace.

The thoroughly Occidental aspect of many of the Turkish delegates has impressed everyone attending the conference. Some members of the delegation remain loyal to the fez, but generally speaking the men from Angora and Constantinople present an appearance as smartly Western as that of any of the European diplomats. Several of the Turkish delegates are here with their wives, who are fashionably gowned in the latest Parisian modes, and are the center of interest at the afternoon teas in the Lausanne hotels.

If Turkey joins the league, which step Ismet Pasha yesterday said she would seek to take if peace is signed here, Turkey can assist in supervising the front door and make herself at home.

By announcing her intention of joining the League of Nations as soon as peace is signed at Lausanne, Turkey virtually admitted she would accept the League of Nations' supervision over the Christian populations in Turkey. The Powers had been advocating the appointment of a special international commission to exercise control over the status of the Greeks, Armenians and other Christians in Turkey.

Turk Still Insists Upon Deportation of Greek Patriarch.

Although Turkey was conciliatory yesterday on the question of accepting some form of supervision from without on the general treatment of the Christian populations inhabiting Turkey, she proved adamant in insisting upon the deportation from Constantinople of the Supreme Patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Church.

This is one of the most important issues of the Lausanne conference. Around it surge all the historical and religious differences between Christianity and Mohammedanism. Since the Turks consider Constantinople their sacred city, they regard that its soil should serve as the permanent seat of the Pontiff of the Greek Christian Church; they maintain that Athens or Rome, or some other avowedly Christian center, should be chosen as his place of residence.

At the meeting of the sub-commission on the exchange of populations, the allied delegates somewhat strongly brought up the question of the Greek Patriarch, knowing full well the dangers surrounding any discussion of this delicate religious problem. Immediately the Ottoman representative arose and insisted that the Patriarch must go, because he had been mixing in politics, to the detriment of the Ottoman state.

Greeks Oppose Deportation.

A debate of considerable asperity ensued. The Greek delegates warned the sub-commission that Greece would never agree to the deportation of the Patriarch and probably would refuse to sign any treaty which authorized such a step. Another attempt to reach an agreement will be made.

Many American churchmen have shown great interest in the Greek Orthodox Church, especially members of the Episcopal Church. In 1920 Bishop Davidson of Harrisburg, Pa., visited the Greek Patriarch at Constantinople, where he laid the basis of a close understanding.

Greece and Serbia Expected to Renew Defense Alliance.

ATHENS, Dec. 15.—The Government is treating with Serbia for prolongation of the Serbo-Greek alliance until next May. The alliance was made with a view to defense against Turkey nine years ago.

Prolongation of the alliance, which is practically certain, will not only secure the northern frontier but is expected also to lead to the formation of a new alliance which would include Rumania. This possibility would bring Greece into a little the entire forming a Christian group in the Balkans, whereby the several states would be secured against future Turkish attacks or designs on territory beyond the Maritima River.

A large number of journalists from Smyrna, who lost everything they owned, with the exception of the clothes they wear, during the fire and pillage of Smyrna, have applied to the American Relief officials for aid, but the latter have been unable to help them because they have been ordered to aid only orphans.

UNIDENTIFIED WOMAN FIGURES IN TRIAL FOR SHOOTING

Alleged to Have Been Committed at Instigation of Wife and Her Brother.

By the Associated Press.
MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Dec. 15.—
An unidentified woman figured yesterday in the trial of Mrs. Doris Brunen and her brother, Harry C.
Mohr, charged with the slaying of "Boss" John T. Brunen, circus
owner.

Mrs. Anna Bauer, one of three principals, today said she saw two women at the Brunen home soon after he was killed. One of the women was Mrs. Brunen. She did not give a description of her.
Since the beginning of the trial
Monday there had been reports that a fourth person, probably a woman,
would be arrested as conspirator in the alleged plot out of which resulted, it is charged, the slaying of the showman by Charles M. Powell, who said he shot Brunen at the instigation of Mrs. Brunen and Mohr.

CONSTITUTION CONVENTION, RECESSING TODAY FOR FOUR MONTHS, HAS SPENT $329,263

Of This Amount, Delegates Have Received
$179,190 in Pay and $77,433 Has Gone to Stenographers—Much Work Still to Be Done.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 15.—
When the Constitutional convention adjourned today for a recess scheduled to end April 15 the total expenditures of the convention since it convened May 15 had been $329,263.
The convention has a balance of $20,738.55 from the original appropriation of $350,000 made for its expenses by the Legislature.
The figures on expenses are contained in a report of the Committee on Printing, Publication, Employees, Supplies and Expenditures presented to the convention by A. M. Clark of Richmond, chairman. The expenditures are divided in the report, as follows:

Salaries of the 83 members of the convention at $10 a day, $179,190;
salary of officers, $4235; salary of clerks, $30,263.50; salary of messengers and pages, $6238.50; printing, $12,146.96; stationery, stock
and supplies, $4291.85; postage
stock, $850; office furniture and fixtures, $1211.45; mileage, $3101; miscellaneous, $1147.96, and office supplies, rentals, telegrams, etc., $1182.45.

Sessions on Only 159 Days.
Although the convention convened seven months there have been sessions on only 159 days as shown by the Journal. Members, however, have received pay for every day
whether the convention was in session or not. Salary of members will not continue during the recess until April 15, called to permit the Legislature to use the legislative chambers and committee rooms
which have been occupied by the convention. The convention voted a week ago to maintain an office, in charge of an assistant secretary during the recess.

There is no limitation upon the time during which the convention
may remain in session nor upon the amount of money which it may spend. Work of the convention was divided into 19 committees. Of that number, 15 were assigned to consideration of recommendations for the new constitution and all but one, the Committee on Redistricting, have submitted reports. When this report will be ready is not known.

The reports of seven committees
have been considered by the convention, sitting as a committee of the whole, and have been sent to the Committee on Phraseology. After the reports have been passed upon by this committee, following the recess, they will be returned to the convention for final approval.

Reports of two committees have been agreed to by the Committee of the Whole, but have not been sent to the Committee on Phraseology,
and the report of one committee has been partially considered. Reports of four committees have not come before the convention as a whole.

Members of the convention today
refused to estimate the time necessary to complete the work of the convention when it reconvenes April 15.

The convention virtually completed its pre-recess work late yesterday
when it adopted the report of the Committee of the Whole recommending adoption of the bill of rights as adopted, with amendments, in the Committee of the Whole.

Religious Section Acted On.
The Committee of the Whole was engaged all of yesterday and the preceding day in argument on the section relating to the power of religious corporations to hold real estate. The present constitution provides that religious corporations may hold real estate only for churches, parsonage or cemeteries. Churchmen throughout the State following a conference of Protestants here a week ago have been urging modification of this section so that additional real estate holdings would be possible for church corporations.

The debate on the subject ended late yesterday with rejection of all amendments offered and refusal of the convention, by a vote of 37 to 20, to recommend incorporation in the new constitution of the present
constitutional provision on that subject.
The result is a more complete victory than the churchmen had hoped for. Unless the section, or one similar to it, is later adopted, the new constitution, if it becomes effective, will make no restrictions on the amount of property a church corporation may hold.

TOBACCO INDUSTRY FACES RUIN

One Large American-Owned Concern Already Closed. Due to Departure of Experienced Workers.

By the Associated Press.
SAMSON, Turkey, Dec. 15.—Turkey's tobacco industry, largely supported by Americans, faces ruin as a result of the departure of the Greek and Armenian workers. One of the largest American concerns already has discontinued operations and another large warehouse firm expects to close soon.

The only salvation for the industry, Americans say, is the training of Turkish men and women in the art of sorting and packing the leaf. This work heretofore has been done by Greeks and Armenians and the inroduction of Turkish workers, it was expected, would be tedious.

Samsun's tobacco output has declined from 14,000,000 pounds in 1919 to 2,000,000 pounds this winter.
American companies take nearly 90 per cent of the Turkish crop.

MAN ARRESTED ON COMPLAINT
OF J. BROOKS JOHNSON

Albert Spencer Admits Striking Money Broker's Assistant—How Over Seizure of Furniture.

Albert Spencer, 64 years old, of 455 Laurel avenue, a real estate man and collector, was arrested yesterday on complaint of J. Brooks Johnson of 5855 Cates avenue, a money broker, whose office in the Times Building Spencer formerly shared, and Edward Stroeter, Johnson's assistant, who complained that Spencer struck him.

Spencer gave bond. He said that Johnson was more than 70, and that he had thought there were things
in the office he could do to help

Johnson's business, so he wrote to a son of Johnson, seeking aid in obtaining this work. The son sent the letter to Johnson, who misunderstood it, Spencer said, so Johnson began to annoy him, ending by suing him for $14 rent, alleged to be due.
Spencer said the altercation arose
when he found a constable seizing
his office furniture today. He admitted having struck Stroeter.

Announcing 1923 Models
My shoes are so well known the country over for their wearing qualities and their moderate price, that my friends sometimes forget that Emerson styles set the pace in smart, fashionable footwear.

Since I own my factories, however, I am able to put out new styles months in advance of their regular appearance on the market.

I want you to see some of the new 1923 models we are showing this week. You will not find them elsewhere much before next March.

You need not worry about price or quality. I guarantee both when I brand my name and a fair and square retail price based on net costs on the soles of my shoes at the factory.
No matter what type of shoe you prefer—at what price—you will always find the correct style in an Emerson Shoe.

CAR SERVICE PETITION DROPPED

Service Board Dismisses Women's Plea for Carondelet Extension.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 15.—The petition of the Carondelet Heights Women's Improvement League, asking for an order for extension of the United Railways Co. tracks 3 South Grand boulevard from Meramec street to Carondelet Park and along Blow street, from the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks to Sharp avenue, today was dismissed by the Public Service Commission. The order of the commission stated that although there is merit in the request, the commission is without jurisdiction, because it is provided by law that no street railway extensions can be made without authority of municipal authorities, and not by them except by petition of the majority of property owners along the proposed street to be occupied.

WIDOW, 16, IS KIDNAPED AFTER TRIAL

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Dec. 15.—State constabulary and police of many cities and towns are searching for Mrs. Georgianna Mauro, 16 years old, who was kidnaped from her home here last night after her testimony had resulted in the conviction of George Girardo as the slayer of her husband.

TIDEWATER OUTLET OBJECT OF DESIRED PURCHASE BY FRISCO

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—For the purchase of International-Great Northern stock by the St. Louis-San Francisco road on a basis that will give holders of I-G. N. voting trust certificates approximately $26.75 per share if the deal is approved by stockholders and the Interstate Commerce Commission, the principal reason given is a desire of the large company for an outlet to tide-water.
J. M. Kurn, president of St. Louis-San Francisco, said yesterday: "The prime reason for our proposed purchase, of course, is that Frisco needs an outlet to water, and will acquire this by way of the present I-G. N. line to Galveston. If the commerce commission approves and this consolidation comes about it will be very advantageous to the Frisco, will tend to cut overhead expenses and increase the system's efficiency."

STANDARD OIL NOT INTERESTED IN SIDELINES, TEAGLE ASSERTS

Tells Senate Committee That Company Has No Interest in Restaurants, Etc.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, declared today at the Senate oil investigation that "contrary to the somewhat general belief," his corporation had no interest, financial or otherwise, in banks, railroads, copper or sulphur mines, the Childs' restaurants, chain stores or any other unrelated business.
"It should not be necessary to say, but I wish the record to show clearly, in view of Senator Harrell's recent speech before the Senate," Teagle added, "that we have absolutely no interest in or connection with the Texas company, the Gulf company or the so-called Doheny or Sinclair companies."
The witness presented revised figures as to crude oil stocks, showing that this company had in storage last Jan. 1 a total of 15,524,930 barrels of crude oil, as compared with 59,229,000 barrels on Dec. 5, this year.

Prisoners Saw Way Out of Jail

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PEORIA, Ill., Dec. 15.—Two prisoners, Fred Wallace and Jesse Redmon, with the aid of outside help, sawed their way out of the jail at Rushville, last night. The only remaining prisoner notified the Sheriff's home, Wallace and Redmon are charged with violating the prohibition law.

EVEN ALCOHOL SIGNS NOW MUST BE DENATURED

Use of the Word Advertising Article for Auto Radiators Shocks Dry Agents.
The Volstead act affects not only alcoholic drinks for human beings, but alcohol for automobile radiators. It is seen in a warning against the advertising of plain "alcohol" for the latter purpose, given today by Chief Prohibition Enforcement Agent Nations.
Proprietors of garages, filling stations and other places were warned that the use of the word "alcohol" alone constituted a violation of the law, but that all would be well if the word "denatured" was used in modification of the "alcohol." The liquid used for automobile radiators, to prevent the water from freezing in cold weather, is not fit for human consumption. Nations said he would be obliged to arrest persons who continued to display signs in violation of the law.
Special Assistant Attorney-General Dyott said it was also a violation of the law to sell denatured alcohol without a permit obtained from William Allen, State Director of Prohibition at Kansas City.

ARMY PHYSICIAN TAKEN FROM BRIDE ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY

Capt. Charles Pike Charges Officer Struck Wife When She Tried to Aid Him.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Capt. Charles Pike, a physician attached to the United States Marine Hospital, today was held in the Lake County Jail at Crown Point, Ind., awaiting a hearing on a charge of bigamy after having been taken from his bride of six weeks last night.
Pike charged that the Indiana officers used force in arresting him in front of his home and that one of them struck his bride when she attempted to assist him.
The couple were married at Crown Point recently, following an elopement. The marriage was the result of a romance begun when Miss Frances Heile was serving as a Red Cross nurse in the same hospital with the army officer. Attorney Louis Heile of Chicago, the bride's father, is said to have objected to the match after he had been told by Pike of his "common-law" wife in Philadelphia. The bigamy charge was preferred by a woman who said she was Mrs. Marjorie Pike of Colorado.

EDISON MEDAL BESTOWED

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Dr. Robert A. Millikan of Pasadena, Cal.,

has been awarded the 1932 Edison medal for "meritorious experimental achievement in electrical science" by the American Institute of Architects. Definite bridging of the gap between light and X-ray phenomena was attempted in Dr. Millikan's recent experiments. He also is known for his so-called "oil drop" experiments, undertaken for the purpose of making precise measurements of the fundamental electrical quality.

Grocer Robbed of $278 in Holdup

Herman Pouring, grocer at 3190 Thomas street, was preparing to go to bank yesterday afternoon, he told the police, when two young men armed with revolvers walked into the store and ordered him to throw up his hands. He said they made him walk to his desk at the rear of the store and take $278 and checks for $57 from it. They then packed away and departed.

Train Comin'!
Is it your train that's comin'?

IF it is yours—boy, this Christmas beats every Christmas ever before! That's because this train, built by the big, crackerjack Lionel factory, is part of a Lionel Electric Train Outfit that can't even be touched by any other kind of train on the market. Every detail of construction, every switch, semaphore, street lamp, and other accessory, right straight up to the biggest twin-motored locomotives and the freight and passenger cars, are perfect reproductions of big system railroad equipment.

Strong? Sturdy? Say! A two hundred pound man can stand on the track without breaking it. Wheels are all made with hardened steel tires just like New York Central and Pennsy wheels. Everything made by Lionel has an iron-bound guarantee on it that it could not be given if the best workmanship in the world didn't go into these trains.

Lionel trains have been the standard of the world for twenty-one years. Lionel transformers, with plug to attach to light socket, are approved by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Perfect safety at practically no current cost is insured. Trains also run on batteries.

Lionel Electric Railroads are made in America and are sold by the best department, toy, sporting goods, hardware and electric stores. Step up to your dealer and tell him that you want Lionel!

KROGER'S

AMERICAN W THE AN Records Established mobile, Muleba M

Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil.
Two Wisconsin women, Margaret Hutton Abels of Wisconsin and Miss Katherine MacGowan of Waupaca, recently established records for crossing the Andes from Lima in 18 days. Starting from Lima they made their way over the mountains, crossing the far stretches of Brazil plains nearly 4000 miles inland. They then made their way through the Amazon on a little trading steamer, which stopped at remote villages for domestic products, arriving in Para, 85 miles from the mouth of the Amazon. This was the first time they had made the trip. At Para they rested for several weeks, then separated. Mrs. Abels is now in Chicago.

AMERICAN WOMEN CROSS THE ANDES IN 18 DAYS

Records Established in Journey by Train, Automobile, Muleback and Canoe Over the Mountains.

Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 15.—Two Wisconsin women, Mrs. Margaret Hutton Abels of Waukegan, and Miss Katherine MacGregor of Waukegan, recently established records for crossing the Andes in 18 days. Starting from Lima, they made their way by train, automobile, mule back and canoe over the mountains, coming out on the far stretches of Brazilian coast nearly 4000 miles inland. They then made their way down the Amazon on a little trading vessel which stopped at remote Indian villages for domestic products, arriving in Para, 85 miles from the mouth of the Amazon. This part of the trip took 14 days. At Para they rested for several days, then separated. Mrs. Abels coming to Rio de Janeiro for a visit and Miss MacGregor continuing on a trip around the world. They set out several months ago, going first to Cuba, then through the Panama Canal and down the west coast of South America. While they were in Lima the opportunity came to cross the Andes, a trip considered by those who have taken it as extremely difficult and dangerous for men, and seldom attempted by foreign women. Friends in Lima tried to dissuade them, picturing the dangers of disease, lack of food and hardships that would be incurred, but as the women were seeking new trails and something out of the ordinary, the importunities of the friends were unavailing. Mrs. Abels is professor of economics in Carroll College, Waukegan.

GRASS FOR ESTATE ACCOUNTING

Case of Charles A. Ware Believes There Should Be Balance.
Mrs. Elaneth A. McGuire of Maryland, Va., today filed suit against Gerald L. Griffin, a lawyer, asking for an accounting of assets from the estate of her brother, Charles A. Ware, who died here seven years ago. The assets, she alleges, include notes secured by real estate mortgages in the amount of $68,450.25; 100 shares of the Mohave Gold-Copper Co., par value $1 each; 500 shares of the Valencuela Copper Co., same par value, and a claim against St. Louis physician for $222.83. She says she has received $42,836.68 from Griffin, but thinks there should be balance.

SEVEN-FOOT GRAY EAGLE KILLED

A gray eagle, measuring seven feet from tip to tip of its wings, was shot and killed yesterday by Hal Spangle, a farmer living near Dow, Ill., who was attracted to his poultry yard by the loud quacking of a duck in time to see the eagle flying away with the fowl. The first shot fired by Spangle wounded the bird sufficiently to make flying impossible and when it was forced to drop he killed it. The bird was placed on exhibition in a store window in Dow today.

Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 14.—To work for a portion of the persons at the Mich-
gan State Penitentiary at Jackson,
the State Administrative Board has authorized construction of a $35,000 plant.
Unemployment is one of the things which the prison population was sent out of which number 491 were employed. Establishment of the textile plant, Warden Hulbert said, will solve this problem only partially,
but will work for more prisoners
to be provided.

DR. SLATEN DISMISSED BY COLLEGE TRUSTEES

Religious Beliefs Held by William Jewell Professor Caused Board's Action.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 15.—Dr.
Arthur Wakefield Slaten, professor of Biblical literature and religious education at William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo., was dismissed from the faculty last night by unanimous decision of the board of trustees. The action of the board was taken in secret session. It followed expressions by Dr. Slaten of certain religious beliefs which the trustees deemed inconsistent with his position.
Resolutions adopted by the board were sent to Dr. Slaten. They assigned as the reason for dismissal that the professor had declared that he did not "believe in or subscribe to"
pre-existence and the deity of Christ;
infidelity of his teachings; his vicarious death; his bodily resurrection; and his mediatorial and intercessory worth. The resolutions also state that Dr. Slaten had declared before the board, "that he does not worship Christ nor pray in his name."

Dismissal will be effective Jan. 1, 1933. Slaten's salary, however, will be continued until the end of the term for which he was employed to teach.
In a statement issued in anticipation of the board's action, Dr. Slaten asserted that "the real issue is far greater than a mere personal one. It is the issue of academic freedom. Shall teachers in denominational colleges be free to teach what their researches convince them to be true, or shall they be controlled in their teachings by the opinions of non-professionals who assume to know the truth already?"
The student body of William Jewell College, after the daily chapel service shortly before noon yesterday adopted a resolution objecting to the removal of Dr. Slaten.

BELLEVILLE POLICE CHIEF IS SUSPENDED WITHOUT PAY

He is Set Down for 30 Days for Failure to Obey Orders of Committee of the City Council.
Chief of Police Frank Wolff of Belleville has been suspended for 30 days without pay, effective tomorrow, for failure to obey orders of the Police Committee of the City Council.
It was charged that last Wednesday he released three men and a woman from St. Louis, who had been arrested the previous night for creating a street disturbance after their automobile collided with an interurban street car.

A Police Sergeant, who ordered the arrest of the party, testified in-fere the Police Committee last night that the Chief ordered their release
before he could prefer charges against them. The Chief replied that the Sergeant failed to make charges in time. The committee recently ordered that all persons arrested for reckless driving or driving

SLAYER'S BLACKMAIL

DEFENSE SUPPORTED

Witnesses for Frank Turchinsky Tell of Hearing Conversations in Store.

The blackmail defense being advanced in the trial of Frank Turchinsky, 32 years old, a jeweler, of 1419 Market street, charged with the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pomerantz Aug. 28, 1921, was supported further today by the testimony of witnesses that Turchinsky had befriended Pomerantz and that, in return, Pomerantz made frequent efforts to obtain money from him, slandered his wife and threatened his life.

The foundation of the defense that Pomerantz was endeavoring to blackmail Turchinsky when Turchinsky shot him was that Pomerantz had told Nathan Brodson, a shoe dealer at 1109 Morgan street, that Mrs. Brodson, who had died shortly previously, had given an $1800 mortgage to Turchinsky. Brodson had agreed to give Pomerantz $500 if he recovered the mortgage.

The defense is arguing that blackmail is third degree robbery under the statute and that Turchinsky's shots were in defense of robbery. The State is declaring that if such effort was being made, Turchinsky had recourse through legal channels and was not justified in taking the law into his own hands to the extent of homicide.

Conversations Overheard. E. Barman, a furniture dealer at 1200 Biddle street, testified that Mrs. Turchinsky had guaranteed payment of a bill of $18 for furniture which Pomerantz had bought and that he subsequently was compelled to seek payment from her under that guarantee.

James J. Nash of 4745 Cupples place, a plumbing contractor, testified that he had overheard a conversation in Turchinsky's store when Pomerantz was demanding that Turchinsky lend him $1000 and that, failing to obtain it, Pomerantz slandered Mrs. Turchinsky.

Richard A. Bouillon of 3221 Easton avenue, testified that he overheard a similar conversation in Turchinsky's store and that, when Turchinsky ordered Pomerantz out, Pomerantz made a motion toward a hip pocket which disclosed the butt of a revolver.

Tells of Hearing Threat. William Thompson of Chicago, an employee of the C. & E. I. Railroad, testified that he heard Pomerantz threaten Turchinsky and say: "I have enough money to go to New York, but I want to see you under the sod first."

Character witnesses testified that Turchinsky had a good character. Others testified that Pomerantz was known to them as a blackmailer of women. This latter testimony was stricken from the record.

Other defense witnesses testified that after the shooting a butcher knife was found beside the body of Pomerantz.

Turchinsky today testified that he and his wife were born in Russia, where they had been neighbors, and were married in the United States in 1913. He has been in business in St. Louis five years.

He met Mr. and Mrs. Pomerantz on Thanksgiving Day, 1920, he said, and the following day they called upon him and he gave them carfare home. As they became better acquainted, he said, he advanced them more money, at one time $25 and another $250 to go in business. Pomerantz, he testified, subsequently sold the business for $500 but did not reimburse him.

Slander Charged. On Aug. 21 last, a week before the shooting, Turchinsky testified, Pomerantz asked for a loan of $1000, which was refused, and he said, Pomerantz then attacked Mrs. Turchinsky's character with untruthful statements.

Turchinsky ordered Pomerantz out of his store, but he and Mrs. Pomerantz returned later and again asked for the loan, stating that he wanted to open another store. When it was again refused, Turchinsky said, Pomerantz began slandering him to his neighbors.

One statement he attributed to Pomerantz was that he, Turchinsky, had an $1800 deed of trust that had belonged to Mrs. Brodson. Turchinsky said he thereupon went to Brodson's home and, in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Pomerantz, who were there, denied this. They all agreed then to go before a Rabbi, where Turchinsky was to make a formal religious oath to this effect.

Turchinsky left the place, but returned later, not expecting to find Mr. and Mrs. Pomerantz there, and the discussion concerning the deed of trust was reopened.

Turchinsky said that Pomerantz repeated the accusation and refused to go before a Rabbi, stating that he was going to settle the affair there and then. Pomerantz seized a butcher knife from a table and Turchinsky drew a revolver and fired one shot, he said. He denied that he intended shooting Mrs. Pomerantz. He said he does not recall anything after firing the shot and was hysterical until the next day.

Finds Letter Mrs.

Apparently Penned President and Rel of Fam

By Leased Wire From the New Bureau of the Post-Dispatch NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—In the great compartment of an old rosewood case E. Sherman Fowler, a member of 31 East Forty-ninth street, discovered recently two letters believed to have been written by Abraham Lincoln shortly after the death of the President, relating to the pinched condition of the coin family finances.

The letters, according to Fowler, were written to his grandfather, James B. Sherman, president of the Central Union Trust Co. and a member of the Union League Club, was at the time in charge of a "fund" which collected $10,000 for the widow. In the company with the letters, says Fowler, was a book of the fund.

The bookcase formerly belonged to his grandfather, he says, and was taken to him as an heirloom. It was lately taken out of the house, curious over apparent

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agent for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, strikes the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

INQUIRY INTO CHARGE U. S. MADE SECRET PACT

Negotiation for Naval Bases in Gulf of Pechili Alleged by Author.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.
SHANGHAI, Dec. 15.—Charles B. Warren, United States Ambassador to Japan, who is now in Peking, is expected to come to Shanghai before he returns to Tokyo and to throw some light on the sensational charge that the United States negotiated secretly with China for the naval bases in the Gulf of Pechili.

Ambassador Warren issued a categorical denial of the charge a fortnight ago and immediately came to China, where he started an investigation. Since then there has been official silence. Demands for an explanation are insistent, especially from the Japanese.

A singular feature is that the charge first appeared in Putnam Weale's book, "An Indiscreet Chronicle From the Pacific." The explosive paragraph was not noticed until a Chinese newspaper printed an alleged stolen report which Weale made to the Chinese Foreign Office, repeating the charge. The Japanese Government then started its inquiry.

According to Weale the existence of an agreement giving the United States naval bases in the Gulf of Pechili convinced Premier Meighen of Canada of the necessity of opposing the Anglo-Japanese alliance. The memorandum which Weale furnished the Premier, also gave him a strictly confidential document purporting to be the actual agreement. These papers were delivered when Weale visited Canada in May, 1921, and presumably they remain in the Meighen's possession.

In view of Ambassador Warren's denial of the authenticity of these documents, there arises the question regarding the nature of the papers Weale exhibited to influence Canada's action.

AUSTRIA IS RETURNING TO ECONOMIC STABILITY
Crown Remains Stable on One Exchange Market for 3 Months—Cost of Living Down.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and Chicago Daily News.
Copyright, 1933.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Austria comes into the limelight again through the acceptance by Dr. Zimmermann, Mayor of Rotterdam, of the post of controller of Austrian finances recently established by the League of Nations. Instead of lamentations and cries of distress which have been coming from Vienna in the last three years, reports, more or less optimistic, reach Paris from that city. The crown has remained stable on one exchange market for more than three months. Internal confidence has been re-established, the bank deposits have been augmented and the index figures on the cost of living were forced down in October and November.

The stipulations attached to the 650,000,000 gold crown loan voted to Austria by the League of Nations in August, last, apparently have been fulfilled by the Austrian Government according to the testimony of the league officials themselves. Not an uncovered paper bank note has appeared since Nov. 18.

Delegates to the conference of creditor nations which met in Geneva in November have expressed their confidence that the allied parliaments will ratify the league loan proposals before the end of January and that the budget of Austria herself will be completely balanced before the end of December, 1934.

Great for Bad Coughs and Colds
Make Your Own Medicine and Have the Best There Is.
You'll Say It's Good When All Mucus Disappears and Clean, Healthy Membrane Is Your Reward.

Here is an inexpensive home remedy that you can't beat and one that will quickly bring up that phlegm, stop the snuffing, relieve the clogged nostrils, make breathing easy and cause stubborn colds and persistent coughs to vacate—many times over, night.

Try it right away if you suffer from Catarrh, Chest Colds or any irritating nose or throat troubles and you'll be glad you run across this little bit of advice.

Get from any druggist, one ounce of Parmitin (double strength) add to it a little sugar and enough water to make one half pint. You can make it in two minutes and when it is mixed you can pride yourself on having a medicine that acts directly on the membrane of the nose and throat and acts so effectively that all phlegm, all tickling and inflammation speedily disappears.

Lewis Retains Wrestling Title After Zbyszko Wins First Fall; Pole's Seconds Throw in Towel

Challenger Tosses Champion With Flying Mare, After 41 Minutes and 15 Seconds, but Is Beaten by Headlock in Second Effort—Injuries Compel Pole to Quit.

By John E. Wray,
Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A towel hurled into the ring by a reluctant manager climaxed the 25-year championship career of Stanislaus Zbyszko (Zbyszko) of Poland, perhaps the most remarkable wrestler the modern world has known.

Lying prone, face down upon the mat, his granite-like features wrung with pain as Champion Ed Lewis almost ferociously racked an injured shoulder with a near-hammerlock, Zbyszko surrendered 14 minutes and 15 seconds after the start of the third and deciding fall.

"I quit," groaned the shaven-headed veteran of 43 years and simultaneously J. H. Herman heaved the white towel into the ring in token of surrender.

Helpers swarmed into the ring and, aided by the champion, assisted the defeated hero of other days to his feet while the 11,000 spectators made the roof quake with cheers for the victor.

It was the third successive time within the year that Zbyszko had fallen before the champion in the same manner—defeat following a victory in the opening fall in each case. The three-time success of Lewis seems effectually to close the championship door on the Pole, whose boast has been that in over 3000 matches and despite his years, he has suffered defeat at the hands of but two men—Frank Gotch and Lewis himself.

Zbyszko Near to Title.
For a time last night the throng had visions of a championship regained by the massive-thighed, bare-chested Pole. His feats of strength, breaking from the more active Lewis' many punishing grips were truly prodigious and fairly made the crowd gasp.

Shaven Pate and Perspiration Enable Zbyszko to Break Strangler's Headlock

At length Lewis gave the crowd what they expected—he launched his headlock attack in earnest. With the aid of a great cat he leaped for Zbyszko with his left arm crooked, slipped it around his opponent's head, clasped his left hand with his right and sank to the floor applying the squeeze.

It was a terrific grip. The top of Zbyszko's head began to empuir. Great veins stood out on it as he struggled to release himself.

In vain he rolled over and over trying to shake the champion's crushing, vice-like embrace. Lewis smiled with him and kept his grip. At length, applying his tremendous neck strength and at the risk of tearing his ears, slowly like a tractor reversing, Zbyszko pulled his head backward.

Then Lewis went berserk. He turned at his foe, trying to apply another headlock while the veteran was dazed; but the crafty old fox was still strong and evaded him for the time. Baffled of his headlock, Lewis applied a toe hold that caused Zbyszko considerable pain. By sheer leg strength he broke that. He rolled and held after hold of every description. Four more headlocks Lewis broke at the Pole's jaw, but each time Zbyszko escaped by sheer strength and a sweat-covered dome. The last one, which he broke about 10 minutes after the start, seemed to weaken him.

When he won the first fall, sympathy began to turn toward the veteran. But an injury suffered in the second fall ruined his hopes and it was only his nerve that brought him back to the ring for the third effort. In the dressing room it was said that Zbyszko had dislocated his right shoulder and had injured the detoid muscle.

For a total of 1 hour, 19 minutes and 15 seconds actual wrestling time the match was a bewildering display of sheer strength, wrestling technique and cave-man gamesmanship. On the attack from the first leap out of his chair, in the opening fall, to the final agony that he mercilessly applied to Zbyszko's shoulder at the close, Lewis was the aggressor. Heavier and taller than his foe but, judging by the hoils on his body, evidently not in Zbyszko's perfect condition, the champion set out to wear out his middle-aged opponent. The announced weights were Zbyszko 226 and Lewis 237, but the marvelous development of Zbyszko indicated that, in strength, he was at no disadvantage. Smooth and pliant as a tiger, his muscles lay in great sheaths under both arms and along his back; his sleep and legs were huge and the sheer strength of the man, as he tore Lewis' best holds apart, was amazing to the fortunate ones who were close enough to see him at work.

For the first 20 minutes Lewis worked at lightning speed and the bald and shaven pate of the Pole began to stream with perspiration. Lewis, too, was soon dripping.

Lewis tried a new tactic. Wheeling quickly he seized the astonished Zbyszko about the head and drew him bodily over his right shoulder, intending to fling him to the mat and smother him for a fall.

But this was Zbyszko's strongest ace—the flying mare. The old boy specializes in this hold which he brought with him from Europe years ago. He danced about like a light-weight and gave a really astonishing exhibition of agility for one so heavy.

But it was of no avail. Lewis was out for revenge and he drove home his attack with a viciousness that defending with alacrity. At times he danced about like a light-weight and gave a really astonishing exhibition of agility for one so heavy.

As the men began the second session Lewis attacked savagely, Zbyszko defending with alacrity. At times he danced about like a light-weight and gave a really astonishing exhibition of agility for one so heavy.

FACTS ABOUT COLISEUM WRESTLING EVENTS

RESULTS.
Title Match—Champion Ed Lewis (Robert Frederick) of California defeated Zbyszko (Stanislaus Zbyszko) of Poland, two falls to one. Zbyszko won the first in 41 minutes, 15 seconds, with a flying mare; Lewis won the second in 24 minutes, 20 seconds, with a headlock. Lewis was the third when Zbyszko's seconds threw the towel in the ring after 14 minutes, 15 seconds, due to injury to Zbyszko's shoulder.

Semi-windup.—Jim London, 195, threw Dan Koffert, 215, one fall in 1 minute, 56 seconds with a Japanese bar hold. The second fall was unfinished at 10 o'clock when the feature event went on.

Preliminary.—Al Wasm threw Carl Armbruster in 21 minutes, 15 seconds, with a bar arm and wrist lock.

Referee.—Preliminary: George Baptiste, semi-windup and feature event.

Piker Five Opens Campaign Against Illinois, Tomorrow

Contest to Be Played at Urbana—Reserve Material Good.

The Washington U. basketball team will open its schedule tomorrow night with a game against the University of Illinois team at Urbana. They will depart tomorrow morning, arriving at Illinois in the afternoon. Coach Appleman, of the Pikers was an all-Western guard for Illinois in 1915.

Illinois' strength on the court this year is not known, but the Illinois team is the Big Ten race last season.

Coach Appleman is confident that his men will be able to hold their own, and even entertains the possibility of a victory. The great advantage the Pikers have this year over many other rivals is that, in addition to having a strong first team, there are five or six substitutes almost as good ready to enter the game at a moment's notice. Debolt, Hutton, Quinn, Neis, Schnaus and Welnick are the substitutes.

The Pikers play their second game against Concordia at Francis Gym Jan. 5, and open the Missouri Valley Conference schedule here a week later with Oklahoma.

WOOSTER LAMBERTS ROLL.
2741 IN CITY TOURNEY

The Wooster Lambers rolled 2741 and gained fourth place in the city scratch tournament on the Palace alley last night. Oscar Whitehead, with 593 was high, followed by Farrell and Sexton, representing the minor leagues, asked that the meetings of the minors and majors be in the same city hereafter. It was agreed that the meetings be held in Chicago next December.

The drafting session will begin on the day before the first world series game.

Umpires in the world series will receive $1000 each.

If a club claims a player on a waiver request in the future, it must take him unless the club asking the waiver changes its mind within 48 hours.

No players are permitted to play exhibition games after Oct. 31 and the contracts of the players will be amended to read that way.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Harry Kalkoff of St. Louis lost the judges' decision in 12 rounds to Battling Reddy of Harlem at the Rink Sporting Club, Brooklyn, last night.

A Real Landis Victory.
Probably the biggest Landis victory was that which followed a communication from M. H. Sexton and John H. Farrell, president and secretary respectively of the National Association of Baseball Clubs (the minor leagues), in which a recommendation was made that the degree of punishment which the Commissioner should inflict in case of conduct detrimental to baseball. Heretofore the Commissioner has believed that this should be done in order to stifle the "penman buying" talk.

The Landis proposition that no big league club be allowed to buy or sell players except through the usual waiver routes after June 15, which was informally adopted last autumn after the McQuillan and Dugan deals by the New York clubs, came through unanimously. The Commissioner believes that this should be done in order to stifle the "penman buying" talk.

The matter of gambling in baseball pools was touched on lightly. The Commissioner did not repeat his argument against the pools which he made at the Louisville meeting and Ban Johnson didn't have anything to say about the gambling at the Red Sox park in Boston which was always one of his favorite themes. It was simply the general opinion of the magnates that public opinion should be influenced and the authorities requested to stamp out betting.

Commissioner Landis Is Given More Power by New Amendment

New Section Added to Major-Minor Agreement in Regard to Punishing Clubs—Magnates Set June 15 as Last Day for Trades.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—If there was ever doubt whether organized baseball, as represented in the major leagues, is behind Commissioner Landis it was dispelled at yesterday's joint meeting of the National League and the American League at the Commodore Hotel. Sixteen club owners or their representatives convened with the Commissioner.

Every moment of the meeting was dominated by the gray-haired Chicago Judge. He had his hand on the throttle at all times.

However, there was one real division of opinion.

That came on the proposition to increase the player limits for each club from 40 as at present to 50 and to allow an increased number out "on option" to minor leagues. The National League as a league voted against this. The American League as a league voted for it. The vote was 12 to 12, with the tie broken in favor of the power number. He does not believe that the major league clubs need as many as 50 players in order to develop young talent.

World Series Rule Amended.
It was decided to amend the world's series rules so that in case of wet grounds, darkness, rain or snow, the baseball commissioner should have the right to decide after conferring with the representative of the home club, for that particular day whether a game should be played. Nothing was said as to the umpires, and that is the thing which caused the rumpus on the second day of the last world's series.

It was unanimously voted that on any called or a joint meeting the clubs which respond shall constitute a quorum. This is a Landis proposition and increases his power in case of a revolt by any section of clubs in the big leagues.

The Landis proposition that no big league club be allowed to buy or sell players except through the usual waiver routes after June 15, which was informally adopted last autumn after the McQuillan and Dugan deals by the New York clubs, came through unanimously. The Commissioner believes that this should be done in order to stifle the "penman buying" talk.

The matter of gambling in baseball pools was touched on lightly. The Commissioner did not repeat his argument against the pools which he made at the Louisville meeting and Ban Johnson didn't have anything to say about the gambling at the Red Sox park in Boston which was always one of his favorite themes. It was simply the general opinion of the magnates that public opinion should be influenced and the authorities requested to stamp out betting.

Zbyszko's Shoulder Not Seriously Hurt, Physician Declares

A PHYSICIAN who examined Stanislaus Zbyszko at his hotel after last night's match stated that the injury which the Pole sustained to his right shoulder on the occasion of the first fall gained by Lewis is not of a permanent or serious nature. He found that the ligaments about the shoulder were severely bruised, but he found no evidence of dislocation.

Lewis and his manager, Sandow, will depart from St. Louis today for Kansas City, where a match is in the making. He is heading for his home in California, wrestling at Emporia, Kan., and other cities en route.

According to Sandow and John Contos, promoter, there is little prospect of a match between Jimmy London, light heavyweight championship claimant, and Lewis. When sounded out by Contos, Sandow responded that he is not at all anxious to match the champion with London, either in St. Louis or elsewhere.

Three East-West Contests Will Be Played on Coast

West Virginia, Pittsburg and Penn State Eleven Will Cross Continent.

By Lawrence Perry.
(Copyright, 1922.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Seven years in history has the Pacific Coast had the promise of so many thrilling post-season intercollegiate football games as at the present time.

San Diego will be the scene of a struggle between the strong University of West Virginia eleven and Gonzaga University—one of the outstanding eleven of the Northwest—on Christmas day.

Pittsburg will meet Leland Stanford at Palo Alto on Dec. 30. On New Year's day Penn State will do battle at Pasadena upon the occasion of the annual tournament of roses.

With the exception of the Leland Stanford-Pittsburg affair, these games were not arranged without some difficulty. For instance, the promoters of the San Diego game wished to have the University of Oregon eleven meet West Virginia, but of late the Pacific Coast conference has been frowning upon intercollegiate sporting projects. So the Northerners declined this opportunity of dealing with the mountains.

S. C. Made Fair Record.
The attitude of the conference seems also to have prevented the coast champions, University of California, from accepting the invitation to play at Pasadena. The team which did accept, the University of Southern California, made a fair record the recent football season. California beat her 12 to 0, but she defeated Leland Stanford 6 to 0. As shown by the outstanding form of the Berkeley (University of California) team, may be pointed out where Oregon and Washington tied 1 to 1, California defeated Washington 45 to 7, and prevailed over Stanford 28 to 7.

New York Bars Jess Willard, but Tulsa Will Fall for Carl Morris

Boxing Commission Will Not Tolerate Jess Because of Age—Tulsa, However, Thinks Carlo Young Enough to Dispose of Fred Fulton, Next Monday.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Lest the Jess Willard fight should be the last of the boxing season in New York, the boxing commission has decided to bar Jess Willard from the state because of "advanced age."

Under the ruling of the New York Athletic Commission, Jess cannot fight in the Empire State because of "advanced age."

Chairman Muldoon, who made this ruling, is likely to be retained as head of the commission by Governor Smith, and Muldoon isn't the sort of man who goes back on his rulings.

The trouble with Muldoon is that, while he is getting old himself, he has no love for old men. A lot of the commissioners would have pity on the aged Jess. They would be perfectly willing to let him through against Dempsey and go through a few feeble motions until the referee at ringside would raise his hand and say: "Now, grandpa, it's time for you to take your little nap."

But not Chairman Muldoon. Anything that Jack Kearns would propose concerning Willard in the way of presenting him with a few set of store teeth or a crutch would get by with the New York Commission. But no violent exercise. No, sir.

Out Comes Carl Morris. Speaking of old men, whom do you think has just been dragged out of the home for the aged to do battle? Carl Morris, no less. He has been amited to meet the oft-plastered planter, Fred Fulton of Minnesota. (The outrage is being perpetrated by the promoters of Tulsa, Ok.; the obsequies are set for next Monday night.)

Tulsa may have much to answer for. But if she attains the years of London, Paris and Alexandria, she will never have a more blazing indictment written against her than this Morris-Fulton fight.

There will be little betting on the outcome of this battle. Not in these parts, anyway, simply because of general ignorance as to which is the worse of the two.

Carl will be remembered by New Yorkers as one of the breed of white hopes in the bygone days before Dempsey disposed of Willard.

Gibbons and Miske
Will Box Tonight

Judges' Decision Will Be Given in 10-Round Contest at St. Paul.

By the Associated Press. ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 15.—Old rivals, Tommy Gibbons and Billy Miske, St. Paul heavyweights, are scheduled to box 10 rounds to a judge's decision here tonight.

"I have fought them all and have been stopped only once—by Jack Dempsey. I hope to force the fighting at such a pace tonight that Tom will welcome the tenth round gong," Miske said.

Examining physicians reported both boxers to be in perfect physical condition. Gibbons, a master boxer, possesses a knockout punch in either hand, and has an impressive string of one, two and three-round knockout victories. He feels that a decisive victory over Miske tonight will put him in line for a bout with Dempsey.

Gibbons holds two decisions over Miske. Miske is 28 years old and weighs 186 pounds. Gibbons weighs 176 pounds and is 33 years old. Gibbons has a reach of 77 inches, one inch greater than Miske's.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Johnny Dundee, junior lightweight champion, received the judges' decision over Gene Delmont in a 12-round match here last night.

YALE ELEVEN WILL PLAY
EIGHT GAMES NEXT YEAR

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 15.—The Yale football schedule for next year was announced yesterday. Owing to the recommendation of the presidents of Yale, Harvard and Princeton, the football practice next year will not start until the week previous to the opening of the college and as a result the schedule has been shortened to eight games.

The Brown game, which until last year was played the week before the Princeton game, has been moved up still another week and will be played on Oct. 27. This puts the Army game forward a week to Nov. 3. Maryland holds its old place on Nov. 10, with Princeton on Nov. 17 at New Haven and Harvard at Cambridge on Nov. 24.

The schedule in full follows: Oct. 6, North Carolina; Oct. 13, Georgia; Oct. 27, Brown; Nov. 3, Army; Nov. 10, Maryland; Nov. 17, Princeton; Nov. 24, Harvard; at Cambridge.

WHITE AND MITCHELL
WILL BATTLE TONIGHT

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Charles White of Chicago and Richie Mitchell of Milwaukee, two of the foremost contenders for the lightweight championship, will meet in a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight. While no definite promises have been made, it is generally expected that the winner will be given a chance to take the crown from Leonard.

Mitchell has already proved a dangerous man, when in a bout staged by Miss Annie Morgan, two years ago, he floored Leonard for the count of seven after the champion had scored three knockdowns in the first round.

WEISSMULLER HANGS UP
ANOTHER SWIM MARK

By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 15.—Two world's swimming records were broken last night in the tank of the Cleveland Athletic Club.

Johnny Weissmuller, Illinois Athletic Club, established a new record for a 50-foot tank when he won the 150-yard back stroke event in 1 minute 44.3 seconds. The former record of 1:49.4 was held by Harry Heber, also of the L. A.

In winning the 220-yard backstroke in 27 minutes, 48.3 seconds, Harold Krueger, Honolulu, broke the former world's record of 2:52.2-5.

Vasell and Gardini Draw.

By the Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—George Vasell of Port Arthur, Tex., and Renato Gardini of Boston wrestled two hours to a draw here last night. Each contestant scored a fall. They are heavyweights.

Shade Boxes Schoell.

By the Associated Press. OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 15.—Dave Shade, California welterweight and Frankie Schoell of Buffalo finished training here yesterday for their 10-round boxing match here tonight. Both declared they are in excellent condition.

Tigers Obtain Francis.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Washington traded Pitcher Francis to Detroit for infielder Gassner at yesterday's meeting of the baseball leagues.

Holy Cross Picks Rippeol.

Your Government
To Cost You Less

With the help of the Budget Bureau, with the co-operation of Congress, with the aid of continual prodding from the White House, the United States Government seems at last to be in a happy way financially. When the newspaper editors read the message President Harding submitted to Congress along with the budget for the new fiscal year, even the Democrats promptly sat down and wrote cheerful, happy, and congratulatory editorials. For they learned that this prodigal Government of ours has in three years cut down its spending from a six-billion-dollar to a three-billion-dollar basis; that it is going to spend half a billion dollars less in the next fiscal year than in the present; that the expected $600,000,000 deficit for 1923 has already been cut down by half, and, since it is only December, may very well be wiped out altogether by the end of the year on June 30; and finally, that the official Budget Bureau estimates for the fiscal year ending in 1924, indicate a substantial surplus of $180,969,125.

You will read in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, December 16th, how the reduction in Government expenses has been effected, what activities have been entailed, and what the probable effects upon the taxpayer may be. Other instructive news-articles in this week's issue of THE DIGEST are:

The Man Responsible for Crime-Ridden Plight of Well-Known Illinois Town

Startling to an unusual degree is the testimony of a cloud of witnesses that the subtlety of the man's "system" has been public attack, through his newspaper, of the evils that he privately protected with great profit to himself. So strong were his followers that they boldly stormed the city hall. The police fired on the mob. Several persons were killed. The State Militia was called out. The Sunday POST-DISPATCH tells the story of the man, from the zenith of his power to his downfall.

THRILLS IN K S D'S RADIO MAIL

From the Cold Canadian Northwest to the torrid jungles of Mexico come letters from those who "listen in." The homesick woman who heard her sister's voice over K S D. Radio fans will enjoy this review of unusual letters in The POST-DISPATCH Sunday Magazine.

Blind Man's Suit for Justice Back Where It Was Six Years Ago

Judgment for $25,000, once affirmed, is rejected because learned Judges held that lower court had made a confusing error in instructing the trial jury. This amazing account of how the law's technicalities have delayed justice, given in the Sunday POST-DISPATCH, should hasten the adoption of a just Compensation Act by the State of Missouri.

Quick Wits of Girls at Telephone Switchboard in Great Emergencies

Theodore N. Vail memorial trophies and cash rewards go to six young women who performed acts of heroism or of great public value under circumstances when the average person is calculated to lose presence of mind—Missouri has one Medalist, the St. Joseph supervisor who saved two babies' lives by using her common sense.

The Sunday POST-DISPATCH recounts in words and pictures the deeds which were performed by these heroines of the "hello offices."

CHANCELLOR OF AMERICAN UNIVERSITY AT WASHINGTON

Lucius C. Clark Installed as Chancellor of American University at Washington, Dec. 15.—Dr. Clark of this city was installed today as chancellor of American University in the presence of representatives of colleges and universities in all sections of the country. The installation was conducted by Bishop William Fraser, president of the Board of Education of the M. E. Church, Episcopalian, a Methodist, an exclusive institution, was the country's first graduate school to have a hope for expansion, and it is unquestioned opportunity and energy for the undergraduate work. The university, said Dr. Clark, is not undertake to shield any of its saving power of the world, but it is not in the mass, and the masses must be saved. The hope of democratic life is in the men and women who have learned to think and go on, and a spiritual passion to give them to an American university must be true to life and people live it.

LIQUOR LAW FINES FREE KENTUCKY TOWN FROM DEBT

Penalties of $38,800 in Year—Mayor, Magistrate and City Treasurer Work Hand in Hand.

MILFORD, Ky., Dec. 10.—Prohibition enforcement has filled the coffers of this river town of 2000 persons.

Mayor Scott, who also acts as Magistrate, ascends the seat of justice to hear all court cases, has the welfare of the town's finances at heart. When prohibition violators confront him, he promptly assesses them and the City Treasurer collects.

According to Scott, in the last year he has imposed fines totaling $38,800 on liquor-law violators. Of this, $28,165 has been collected, exclusive of costs. Suspended fines aggregated slightly less than $7000, and those deemed uncollectible total $6939. Money from this source has freed the town from debt.

Thumb-Box Art Exhibition Moved.

The St. Louis Art League announces the eighth annual thumb-box exhibition, formerly on view at the Planters Hotel, has been installed in the league's new headquarters, on the fifth floor of the Chamber of Commerce building.

The Man on the Sandbox

AND SO IT GOES.

SING a song of sixpence,
A case of phoney rye;
Four and twenty rum-hounds
Feeling very dry.
When the case was opened
They drank the deadly liquor;
Now wasn't that enough to make
An undertaker snicker?

The Wop was in the parlor
Counting up the cash,
The wife was in the kitchen
Making sour mash;
The scent of boiling liquor
Was coming from the flues,
Along came a "High-Jack"
And swiped all the booze.

To put the President perfectly at ease Gene opened the interview by presenting Warren with his pet driver.

Why not let the umpires decide the doubtful hits? If the hapless ball player has got to be robbed of his hard-earned base hits it might as well be done by a professional.

Besides, the ump is in a better position to see the play than anybody else and would no doubt be delighted to take on a few more extra burdens.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By Irvin S. Cobb

CALCULATED TO WORK IMPROVEMENTS.

TWO sympathetic friends called at a house of mourning in the Bronx. Mrs. Levinsky, wife of the wealthy white-goods importer, had passed away, following her return from a Southern trip.

The callers were shown into the parlor, where the bereft husband sat alongside the casket. They advanced and looked upon the face of the deceased.

"Don't she look wonderful?" said one of them.

The widower raised his head. "Why shouldn't she look wonderful?" he asked. "Didn't she spend the whole winter at Palm Beach?"

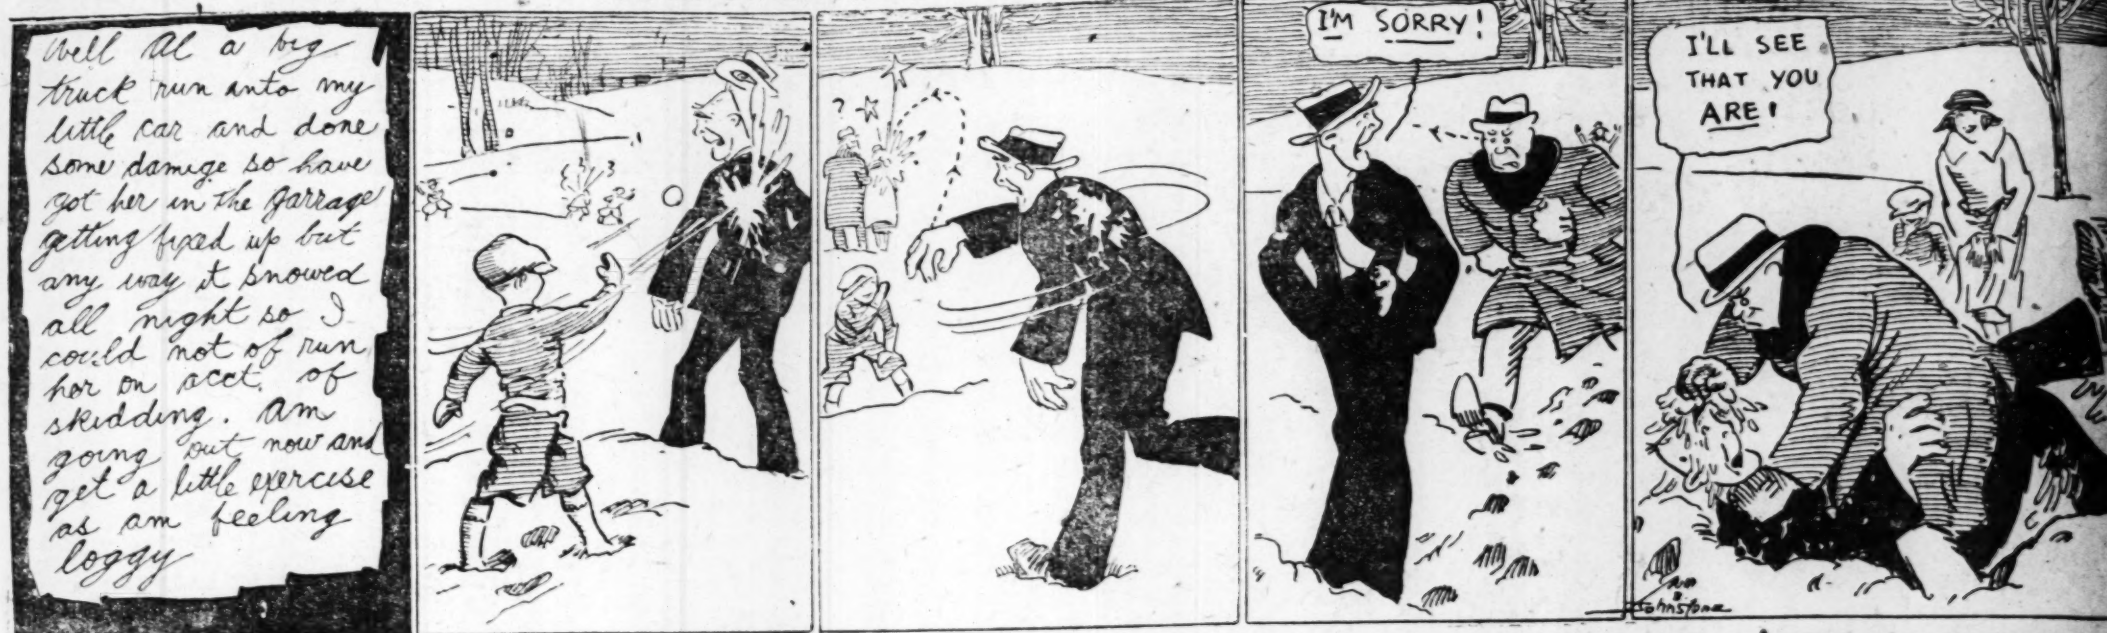

Back to God's Country.

SOON after the Civil War ended a former trooper of Morgan's Cavalry moved from his home in the Bluegrass region to California. He was a gentleman of genial habits and a natural orator. It was almost inevitable, therefore, that sooner or later he should enter politics. He announced as a candidate for the Legislature on the Democratic ticket. He made a spirited campaign, but when the primary returns were in, of three candidates the ex-Confederate had finished third.

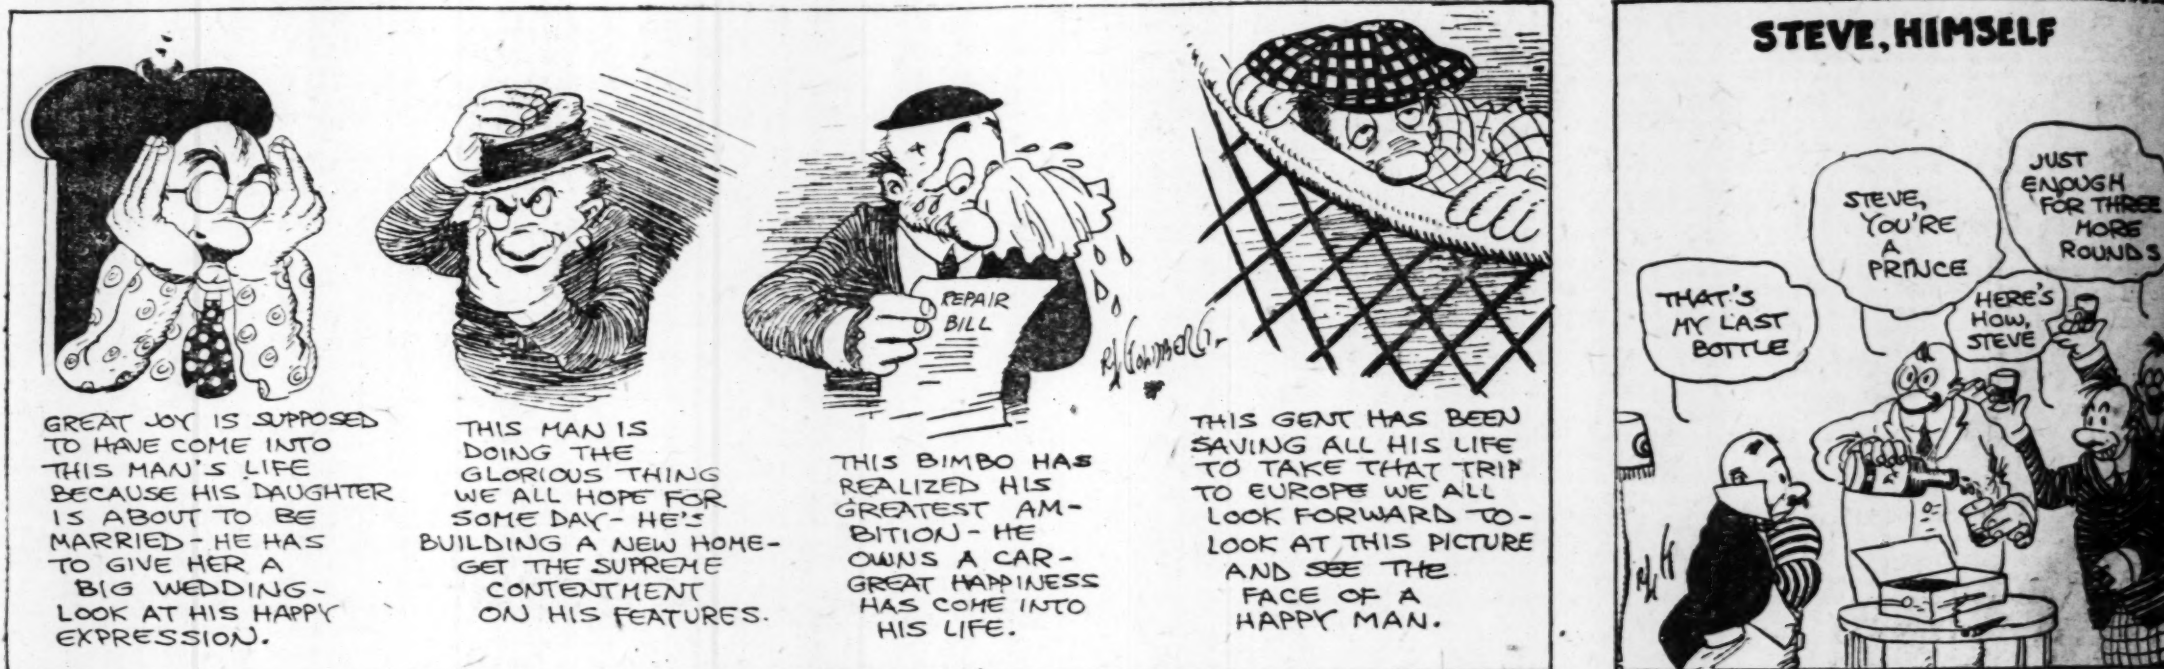

He called a meeting of his friends and made a speech. It was short but complete. "Gentlemen," he said, "I'm going to quit this cursed country. I'm going back to Kentucky—the only fit place for a Southern white gentleman to live—where the niggers make your crop for you and the Sheriff sells it."

IN 25 MJeweler Has Yet
Charge of Killing
Sam Pomerantz,
Same Time.

A scene of unusual emotion occurred in Circuit Judge courtroom today when a one ballot, returned a verdict of guilty of Frank Turchinsky of 1419 Market street, who, in 1921, shot and killed Mrs. Sam Pomerantz as she sat in her car. The trial attracted a large crowd of spectators, and the courtroom was filled to capacity. Judge Hogan, presiding, cleared the courtroom of spectators, and the verdict was reached.

When announcement of the verdict was made, the courtroom was thrown into a state of commotion. The crowd behind Turchinsky's wife, Mrs. Turchinsky, who had been told what a murder charge for shooting her husband, sobbed and wept. The trial attracted a large crowd of spectators, and the courtroom was filled to capacity.

Spectators Moved to the Jury Box. She insisted upon being seated next to the jurors and voice made incoherent as she began to thank and bless what she had done for her husband at her side tried what she was saying and the jury's feelings so impeded that the entire panel was unable to hear. Even counsel, accustomed to courtroom exhibitions of this kind, were visibly moved. Spectators wept.

One of the jurors said he was impressed by the evidence of the "numerator" who testified as to Turchinsky's good character as a husband, whose name had been repeatedly besmirched by who were killed. Another juror said: "I think Turchinsky has had a medal."

Turchinsky has yet to be sentenced. Mrs. Pomerantz counsel said that their decision will be similar to that of the trial just closed—Turchinsky was in jeopardy of his life. The woman who had been told what a murder charge for shooting her husband, sobbed and wept. The trial attracted a large crowd of spectators, and the courtroom was filled to capacity.

The case went to the jury at 10 a. m. and the verdict was reached at 1:30 p. m. Judge Hogan announced the verdict, and the courtroom was thrown into a state of commotion. The crowd behind Turchinsky's wife, Mrs. Turchinsky, who had been told what a murder charge for shooting her husband, sobbed and wept. The trial attracted a large crowd of spectators, and the courtroom was filled to capacity.

Called and Obtained. A few days later, Mrs. Pomerantz, who had been told what a murder charge for shooting her husband, sobbed and wept. The trial attracted a large crowd of spectators, and the courtroom was filled to capacity.

Chided About Mortgage. Within a few days a man Brodson, a shoe dealer on Market street, chided Turchinsky because he had taken a mortgage from his mother-in-law.
